Offers of $46,000,000 from New York and Boston Alone-The Total Bids Aggregate Nearly $70,000,000-An-nouncements Today.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 -(By the Associated Press.) At 5 o'clock President Stewart wired Secretary Carlisle that the total subscriptions in this city for bonds was something in excess of $45,-000,000. This also included the bids of three Boston houses, Kidder, Pea-body & Co., E. R. Morse & Co. and B. L. Day & Co., the first-named firm taking $1,300,000, the second $500,000 and the last named $1,000,000.

The largest subscription-received this afternoon was that of Lazard, Freres & Co. for $1,000,000. J. D. Probst & Co. came next with $700,000, Ungers, Smithers & Co. $500,000 and Hobgarten & Co. $250,000. The rest was taken up in small bids, ranging from $250,000 to $100,000.

SUCCESS ASSURED. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The success of Secretary Carlisle's proposed bond loan was fully assured when the department closed this afternoon, as the offers to take bonds received today, added to those heretofore received, make an aggregate of nearly $70,000,000. Those today received from New York amounted to $45,000,000 and in addition offers were received from Boston and Chicago.

Offers will continue to be received up to noon tomorrow. The present ex-pectation is that the Secretary will and the premiums some time tomorrow

Evans and Morrell Glad to See Friends.

The Bandits Said to Be in the Neighbort Camp Badger-Evans Accuses His Jailers With Planning to Shoot Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—(Special.) A Freshot dispatch says this evening's Expositor announces that there seems to be no trouble about everybody except the officers seeing Evans and Mor-rell. It publishes an interview with a man who has just come down from camp Badger in which he says that Evans and Morrell are there ready and willing to see their friends but are keeping out of the way whenever Dep-an appearan Evans says that the Sheriff's officer in Frespo wanted to kill him. They tried to get him to make a break for liberty some day or night when they were on guard and prepared and in-tended to shoot him and make a great ado over the occurrence and use it as political capital. The bandit speaks very bitterly on this subject and says uty Sheriff Peck and his posse put in that he feared for his life. "At one time," says Evans, "they invited me to make a break and left everything in apparently a careless condition to tempt me, but I was up to their tricks. I saw that they had four or five men hidden ready to shoot me down as I would pass out and I fooled them. I did not walk out that time. I was doing that walking-out business to suit myself, and when the time came I did it. But the best of it they were was," continued Evans, "they using Morrell. The Sheriff's thought they had him on their side and he was the man who was to get me to make a break for liberty, so they could shoot me down. But Morrell fooled them. He was my friend, and he played them to suit himself and they played right into our hands as nicely as could be.

"Why," continued Evans with a show of anger in his face, "they had it all put up to kill me the same night that I escaped. They wanted to kill me. It He went to Honolulu in March for the purpose of investigating the situation. He told the committee that he went there prepossessed in favor of the Queen, but came away entirely convinced that the revolution was justified and that the Queen was unfit to rule the islands.

McArthur was on the islands at the time Elount was there and stopped at the Elount was there and stopped at the purpose of intention or wish to shoot me, that was what they were playing for. Morrell was to help me out later that night, and the Sheriff was to have four or five men hidden with shotguns and just as I stepped into the yard they were to fill me with shot. Then to make people believe that they had ne a great thing. But Morrell was just a little too sharp for them, and we made the escape before they got their men in position to shoot me."

Evans is in perfect health now. If he has been sick he doesn't show it. He and Morrell look as if they had experienced good treatment. When experienced good treatment. When asked where Evans and Morrell are staying it was stated that the bandits let nobody, not even their most trusted friends, know where their camp is, keeping that matter entirely to them-In fact the people up there seem to prefer not to know where the bandits' camp is. They come out when they want to see anybody.

"There is some sort of an arrange ment whereby they make appointments to meet those who are friendly to them," said the informant. "I do not know exactly what that arrangement is, but they are by no means lost to the outside world. No, I don't know who is feeding them, but they suffer for none of the necessaries of life and they appear to enjoy themselves. I do not know who their friends are, but not know a great many people are not going to hunt for them.

"Why, I was told, but not by the bandits, that there are scouts constantly on the lookout for every stranger or suspicious-looking person who comes among the hills, and the parties at once carried to the bandits. who are thus kept posted as to all movements. They know all the time where the posse is, for there have been where the posse is, for there have been officers there constantly. The officers are never lost sight of, day or night, and it is pretty certain that Evans and Morrel cannot be taken by surprise. The fact seems well established that Morrel has written letters to Miss Kincaid since he left here. The last letter was only a few days ago and it is said that it has been forwarded to her at Los Angeles where she now is.

The Rumor that Gladstone Will Resign i Denied - Vaillant's Execution Again

Postponed-The Czar's Condition Improved-Seamen Drowned. By Telegraph to The Times RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 31.-(Copy righted, 1894, by Cable and Associated Press.) The action of Admiral Benham in protecting American ships has had a salutary effect. The English merchant ships and those of other nationalities are now coming up to the wharves without any sign of molestation by the insurgents' vessels. Benham's bold stand is generally applauded. The exchange of shots be ween the insurgent and government forces has practically ceased during the past twenty-four hours. This is the first time for four months that day has passed in which there was not re or less firing. All foreigners are delighted with the esult of the American admiral's conduct. The commanders of the foreign fleets held a conference today to discuss the action of Benham and resolutions were adopted fully indorsing the ourse pursued. Much regret was expressed at the absence from Rio American Consul-General Townes. Vice-Consul Lewis is little more than a boy and Americans hardly think him fitted act as the representative of the United States at such a critical junc ture. They say his lack of familiarity with diplomatic affairs is liable to lead him constantly into blunders. Da Gama feels agrieved at Benham. He sent a letter to the American admiral today protesting against the ostentatious manner in which the American commander had humiliated him He says he will yield for the time to superior force, but that as he was com pelled to allow the American ships to come to the wharves he has officially ome to the wharves he mas on other other other of all other other of the same. nations that they may do the same He declares that the insurgents have held the harbor for five months and says that now, if the shore batteries fire on him, he will be unable to reply for fear of hurting neutral ships and will also be unable to protect his men. Da Gama also sent letters to the of ficers in conference to discuss Ben-ham's action, asking that he might be permitted to bombard the city without notice. No answer was sent to him but Benham said later to the Associ ated Press correspondent that he would grant the insurgent admiral permission b bombard the city, though he would equire forty-eight hours' notice be given so that non-combatants might be able to seek shelter.

E OFFICIAL STATUS. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.-Neither the State or Navy Departments received further information during the day of e Brazilian situation. Further infor mation has been requested from Admiral Benham as there seems to be one or two features of the incident that are rather vaguely understood by the department. It is not known, and is thought to be not true, that any in-structions have been sent to Ben-ham other than the general instructions to all naval commanders to pro-tect the rights of American citizens. He announced to the Navy Depart-ment last Saturday the course he proposed to pursue and which was un oubtedly approved before he acted.

The surrender by Da Gama to Benham would embarrass this government and Benham has either signified that he understands this or has been warned of the fact. His purpose is not to be understood as intervening against the insurgents, but simply as protecting American interests against aggressions by the insurgents, and the policy the government is understood to be one of approval of Benham's cause in compelling recognition of the rights of American shipping while refraining from interference in the intenecine struggle in Brazil.

NEWS VIA BUENOS AYRES.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 31. - Dis-atches from Rio say that the insurents are preparing for a vigorous attack on Santes and Sao Paulo.

The news of the firing between the United States warships and the insurgent vessels seems to have been greatly exaggerated. Dipatches here say that only signal shots were exchanged and that none were fired in real earnest. The insurgents feel greatly discoun aged at Admiral da Gama's practical surrender to the United States admiral, and it is reported that the younger officers favor having him replaced by more energetic commander.

FROM THE OTHER SIDE.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Naval, political, military and commercial circles heartily commend the journalistic enterprise of the Associated Press in setting all conflicting rumors as to the situation at Rio de Janeiro at rest by obtaining the exclusive interview with Admiral Benham. But for this, conflicting reports to the effect that Admiral da Gama had surrendered would probably have been current for several days.

At the Admiralty and Foreign Office, Benham's attitude is heartily approved. The Brazilian Minister said to the Associated Press today that he believed the end of the revolt was imminent. The fact that Da Gama talked of surrender would have the same effect on the insurgent ranks as if he had actu ally done so. He believes that if the insurgent admiral finally surrenders to Benham he will be handed over to

United States Ambassador Bayard said that there was not much signifi-cance in Benham's action, adding: "If the foreign warships are not there for that purpose, of what use are they?" The St. James Gazette says that the precious Monroe doctrine seems to be construed into allowing the United States alone to interfere in South American affairs."

It is announced that Admiral Mello has captured Curitubu and a large amount of specie.

The rebel com-mander replied that he could only be

Domestic influences and deep regret at the rejec-tion of the Home Rule Bill are also elements in his decision.

GLADSTONE TO RETIRE.

A letter received from Blarritz, sent by Herbert Gladstone, says that his father is in splendid health and full of fight for the coming session. Gladstone's secretary informs the Associated Press that he has no information that would lead him to the belief that there is any truth in the story that Gladstone intended to resign. Later—Sir Algernon West, who is with Gladstone at Blarritz, has been authorized to declare the statement that Gladstone had decided to resign, is untrue. He is further authorized to say that it is true that many months Gladstone's age and condition, sigh on, sight and earing, made it, in his judgment, desirable to be relieved from public cares. His tenure of office, which had been li-able to interruption from these causes, remains exactly as before. Gladstone had not said or done anything to re-strain the freedom of his colleagues with regard to his future course.

Tariff Bill Amended.

Whisky Will Pay $1.00 Per Gallon in Bond.

Closing Arguments to Be Made Today.

International Revenue and Income Tax Features Carried-Discussion of the Bond Issue Occupies the Senate.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 .- (By the Asociated Press.) The Internal Revenue Bill was placed as a rider upon the tariff bill this afternoon by a vote of 175 o 56. The entire day was spent in consideration of amendments to the various internal revenue features. The rincipal fight came upon the proposal o increase the tax upon whisky from 90 ents to $1, and extend the bonded period from three to eight years. Th provisions, especially the one looking to the increase of the bonded period, were bitterly opposed upon both sides of the House, and the proposition to extend the bonded period was stricken out, while the increase of the tax from 90 cents to $1 was allowed to stand. The Kentucky members say this will bring ruin and disaster to the whisky inter ests of their State. Kentucky alone has over 85,000,000 gallons of whisky in bond upon which the tax has increased without giving them the benefit of the extension of the bonded period,

Only one other amendment of importance to the internal revenue fea-tures of the bill was carried. It was a provision to extend the operation of the income tax to all money and personal property given or bequeathed by inheritance. This, it is estimated, will increase the revenue about $3,000,000. After the disposal of the internal revenue amendments, a row ocurred over the amendments to the barley schedule, pending last Saturday, and maneuvering, Representative Lookwood, who is opposed to them, managed to prevent a vote until the hour of recess arrived. At 12 o'clock tomorrow, according to the special order, the tariff bill will be reported to the House, three hours will be allowed for closing the debate, one and a half hours on each side. Ex-Speaker Reed will make the closing speech for his side, and Speaker Orlsp and Chairman Wilson will close the Democratic side. At 3 o'clock a vote will be taken on the bill, and pending amendments. Under the rule the only motion which can intervene before the final vote is taken upon the passage of the bill after the amendments are dis-uosed of, is a motion to recommit, with or without instructions. As the Republicans have decided to refuse to join in an effort to recommit, it is a foregone conclusion that the motion will be defeated if made. A semi-official estimate made by Mr. Wilson and some of his friends on the committe, gives the bill 34 majority, divided as follows: Democrats, 182, and Populists, 11; total, 193, as against 126 Republicans, 32 Democrats and 1 Pop-ulist, Mr. Newlands of Nevada; total,

The entire time of the Senate today was consumed in discussion of the res-olution by Senator Stewart declaring that the Secretary of the Treasury had no power to issue the bonds for which bids have been invited.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS. REGULAR SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. $1.—(By the Associated Press.) SENATE.—The resolution denying the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to issue the proposed bonds came up. Senator Al-len of Nebraska took the floor to reply to Senator Sherman's argument of yesterday. He declared the authority to issue bonds under the resumption act was not continuing in its power and ceased with its first exercises "Does not the duty retiring $300,000, 000 continue the same as before?" in-quired Senator Platt. "Is not the Secretary of the Treasury just as much bound to redeem treasury notes pre-sented now as before the limitation of the redemption of those notes?"

"No, sir," replied Senator Allen.
"Does the Senator hold that if a treasury note was now presented the Treasurer is not bound to redeem it?" "I do." replied Senator Alfen. "He is not under any act of Congress now in existence."

Senator Stewart confirmed Senator Allen's statement and said that the only intention of the act of 1875 was to redeem the $75,000,000 in greenbacks and that was the extent of the power given by law. Senator Allen, in reply to a question by Senator Allison, said that the only power conferred upon the Secretary of the Treasury was to redeem legal ten-der notes down to $300,000,000 and when they reached that point his power to redeem stopped. Senator Allison replied: "The re-serve of $100,000,000 lying there now is for the purpose of redeeming green-backs and for no other purpose." Senator Allen maintained that the reserve fund was a mere caprice of the Secretary of the Treasury and rested upon no authority derived from Con-gress. The Secretary has power to destroy the reserve and use it for the or-dinary purposes of the government.

Senator Hoar then said: "I feel bound by sense of public duty to de-clare it my opinion that the bonds is-sued and sold by the Treasury Depart-ment under existing circumstances will be illegal and will carry no constitutional or lawful obligation on the gov-

senator for payment."

Senator Gorman argued that the Republicans were responsible for the present condition of the treasury, but admitted that silver legislation is in part responsible for the situation. The chairman said the principal cause was because the Democratic party had me into power. there was no question as to the Secre-tary's power to issue bonds and that any question of expenditure of money was a subject for later consideration after the money had been secured by the sale of bonds. He maintained that the Secretary could use money both to redeem greenbacks and carry on the government.

Senator Hawley said the success of senator Hawley said the success of the Democratic party was responsible for the faling-off in the revenue and the depletion of the treasury. The bond question went over until to-

Tate of Georgia offered an Mr. Tate of Georgia onlined an amendment striking out the sections relating to the tax on whisky and the increase of the bonded period and manner of collecting the tax. Mr. Tate explained that if the amendment was adopted the law would remain as it is.

Representative Outhwaite offered an amendment to the amendment to in-crease the tax on whisky from 90 cents to $1 when in bond one year, $1.10 when in bond two years $1.30 when in bond three years, the bonded period to cease at the end of that time. He said he did not intend to press the amendment The provisions of the bill were wrong In the Interests of reform a few ago the bounty on sugar was abolished now it was proposed to give a bounty to the whisky industry, to increase the onded period from three years ght at a cost of 10 cents a gallon.

"Do I understand that the bill in-creases the bonded period to eight years?" asked Mr. Dockery.

"It does," replied Mr. Outhwaite.
"Then it should be voted down," responded the other.

Mr. Outhwaite's amendment was lost Mr. Montgomery, member of the Ways and Means Committee, strongly de-fended the whisky provisions of the bill and Mr. Caruth of Kentucky made an eloquent appeal for extension of the bonded period in the interest of the blue grass distillers.

An amendment by Mr. Bland providing for an extension of the bonded period beyond three years was lost and Mr. Dingley's amendment to strike out the extension of the bonded period was carried by a vote of 104 to 79.

Mr. Montgomery offered an amend-ment extending the bonded period, but if the liquor is in bond more than three years the owner must pay the estiated cost of exportation and re-importation. A heated discussion arose between Representatives Outhwaite Monigomery and Caruth, the former claiming that the people were not in-terested in the overproduction of hisky so that it can be speculated in and favoring the entire prevention of the exportation of whisky, while the two Kentucky members asserted that the action of the House meant ruin to great producing industry. An amendment was agreed to without objection perfecting the text of bill so as to leave no doubt of the fact that all whisky in bond is to be subjected to he increased tax.

An amendment by Mr. Walker of Massachusetts, increasing the tax to $1.50 was lost, as was also an amendment by Mr. Gear of Iowa, increasing the license of retail dealers to $50 and that of wholesale dealers to $200. Mr. Dingley's amendment increasing the tax to $1 and leaving the bonded period at three years was adopted.

The amendment of Mr. Tucker ex-empting the incomes of educational and charitable institutions from the income tax was adopted.

Mr. Whiting, one of the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee, offered an amendment to give the producers of the East an opportunity to fortify wine with grape. spirits. The California stock act of 1890 limited the amount of beet cane sugar that could be added to wine to 4 per cent. and the amendment was to increase it to 10 per cent. was agreed to.

Mr. Pence offered an amendment providing for a graduated income tax of 1 per cent. on $2500 up to 5 per on over $100,000. It was lost.

Sibley of Pennsylvania offered an amendment of 2 per cent. on incomes of $10,000 to $50,000; 3 per cent. on sums from $50,000 to $100,000; 5 per cent. on sums from $100,000 to $200,000, and 10 per cent above $200,000. This was also Mr. Reed presented a petition from ooo,000, but who fain would be exempt from the operation of the income tax. Mr. Enloe of Tennessee made sar-castic comments on Mr. Cockran's speech of yesterday and Mr. Campbell of New York said: "We had better leave the Democratic party."

Mr. Enloe replied: "Oh, no; you will not leave the Democratic party. You would have no place to which to go." Mr. Kilgore offered an amendment including the United States bonds in the income tax, but it was lost.

Mr. Springer offered an amendment including incomes on money or property received by gift or inheritance.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Maguire of California made a vigorous speech favoring his single tax ndment, and then the hour of 5 o'clock having arrived, according to the arrangements agreed upon, a vote was taken upon making the Internal Revenue Bill an amendment to the tariff bill and on the amendment to the tark bin and on the amendment of Mr. Ma-guire still pending. Mr. Maguire's amendment was lost by a vote of 6 to 150; only Representatives Johnson and Harter of Ohio, Maguire of California, Warner and Tracey of New York and Simpson of Kansas voting for it.

the vote then recurred upon the ption of the internal revenue amendat. All Populists and quite a numof Republicans, including Repretatives Bowers of California, Pickof South Dakota, Hartman of Mona, Sweet of Idaho, Bartholdt of Misch, Taylor of Tennessee, White of and Doolittle of Washington voted it. The main body of Republicans, ever, did not vote. The votes against the amendment were confined to Democrats from Eastern States. The amendment was carried by a vote of The chair then stated that the pending amendments were those to the barley schedule which were pending when the committee rose last Saturday. Representative Lockwood made a point of order that these amendments could not be voted upon until the bill was reported to the House. The chair overruled him and Mr. Lockwood ap-pealed from the decision. The Speaker was, however, sustained by a vote of 189 to 14. Mr. Lockwood's evident pur ose was to secure time to prevent a ote until 5:30 o'clock when the committee would have to rise. He made a point of order that when the committee rose last Saturday the debate had not been closed. He desired to debate—the question. The chair took him off his feet by declaring that when the committee rose last Saturday it was dividing on the motion to close the de-

The tellers were then ordered to take their places. The advocates of the barley amendments rushed forward and ran between the tellers. The opponents lagged behind while the minutes ticked by. The tellers lacked only seven votes of a quorum when the hour of 5:30 arrived and the committee rose and the House recessed until 8 o'clock. The last night session of the tariff de bate was unusually interesting. The speakers were Representatives Baker of Kansas, Bingham of New York, Hooker of New York, Kem of Ne Hooker of New York, Kem of Nebraska, Caminetti of California, Cummings of New York, Stallings of Alabama, Cooper of Texas, Blanchard of Louisiana, Ryan of New York, Pascall of Texas, McCleary of Minnesota and Houk of Ohio. RURAL HEGIRA TO CITIES.

All the World Over People are Flocking from the Country to Reside in Towns.

(New York Sun.) One of the remarkable social features of this era is the large and constant movement of population from the country to the cities, a movement that tends to rural depopulation. It is not confined to any country or any part of the earth, but is most marked in the oldest and most thickly-populated countries of Europe most marked in the oldest and most thickly-populated countries of Europe. Itis also a movement of considerable importance in this hemisphere, and in the newest of all civilized countries. the newest of all civilized countries, Australia. It is best stated, perhaps, as a disproportionate growth of towns, to the extent that in the past thirty or forty years there has been an actual diminution of the rural population in the greater portion of Europe and in many parts of this continent and Australia.

Perhaps this movement has been most marked in Great Priting and Iron.

Perhaps this movement has been most marked in Great Eritain and Ireland. The migration of population from the rural districts to towns was first apparent in Wales in 1851. It did not become of any importance in England until some ten years later. During the last twenty years eight countries in England and three in Wales have lost 10 per cent. of their rural population; that is, the rural population in those countries today is 10 per cent. less than it was twenty years ago. In some districts, particularly in the southwest of the kingdom, the decrease in rural population is as high as 20 to 30 per cent. In Scotland the movement toward the towns began sixty years ago, and parliamentary returns show that the depopulation has been much greater than in England and Wales, but the precise percentage is not stated. The the depopulation has been much greater than in England and Wales, but the precise percentage is not stated. The Highlands has suffered most, but the Lowlands have also lost heavily. The returns quoted aver that the formation of deep forests, which necessitates the dispossession and driving away wholesale of very many families, has played no important part in the depopulation of the rural districts. This indicates that to some deeper underlying cause must be ascribed the great general exodus from the rural regions.

The depopulation of Ireland has been continuous and severe, and general throughout the country. It has not been a rural depopulation only, but a general emigration from town and county. It began before the great famine of 1846, and has continued ever since. But even in Ireland, with this general decrease of the population as a whole, there has been a great increase in the population of many towns. Belfast has increased remarkably.

There seems to exist nowadays on the part of many rural-born persons an aversion to country life, and, it would seem, an aversion that is spreading. Reasons to account for this are plentiful, and will readily be conceived. Whether there is any remedy, and whether a remedy is required, are other questions.

Value of a Signature

Walue of a Signature.

(Boston Herald.) An important matter to teach a girl is the value of her signature. If the habit is once formed of attaching her full name to every letter she writes, with her address, it may save a great deal of trouble in future times, should her letters be lost by mail. She should be taught the responsibility which she assumes in thus signing her name, and she is not likely then to write silly and foolish letters which she would gladly recall. She should also learn that she must not affix her name to any list of individuals, any society or any document without knowing fully what responsibility she is assuming. The matter may seem trivial, but she should give time to thought in all matters where her name is asked for and not trust even to her dearest friend against her own judgment.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EXHIBIT. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.-In the rail-SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—In the railroad shops this morning there was even more than the usual animation. Busy workmen were getting together the display of the Southern Pacific Company for the Midwinter Fair. The exhibit will be an object lesson of the wonderful achievements in railroading since the inception of the transcontinental enterprise. As Sacramento presented material for the running of the great road in early days, so it is enabled today to show to the people what the growth of that railroad and the progress of invention in railroading has been.

The engine "C. P. Huntington," one of the first sent out from the East during the construction period, was brushed up this morning to be sent down to the fair. The monster "compound" engine No. 1999 was got in readiness to accompany the "Huntington," and the two will gerve to show the difference between engines of today and those of early times. The "Huntington" could be lifted up and placed in the tender of No. 1999. It has but two driving-wheels, while the mammoth modern engine has eight driving-wheels and four "pony" or forward wheels. The large engine is but one of the twenty-one engaged in drawing freight-trains over the mountains.

Box-car No. 1 was also taken from its shelter to accompany the furniture freight-car No. 69.066. The former is of ten tons capacity, and the latter of thirty tons capacity, and the latter of the interference of the sagment of the sagment of the Sacramento Valley Railroad, together with an elegantly-fitted modern coach, beside which the former seems like an appendage to a toy locomotive. COWARDLY WORK.

A Gang of Ruffians Terrorizes Mrs. Stanfor

at Vina.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—(By the Associated Press.) The Evening Bee's Vina special says that last Saturday ening Mrs. Leland Stanford arrived in her private car at this place. Since the death of Gov. Stanford she has made it a rule to visit Vina vineyard bout once a month; these visits being or the purpose of consulting the heads of the differenc departments in charge f this great estate. Yesterday she completed her work and last evening ordered her car to be taken from the vineyard switch to the sidetrack near to the depot so that she could leave by the south-bound Oregon express, which was to pass through this place about midnight.

by the south-bound Oregon express, which was to pass through this place about midnight.

Mrs. Stanford was accompanied by her brother and maid. They left the residence for the car a little after dark. About 11 o'clock a cowardly gang of ruffians, some ten or more in number, made a demonstration near the car which they kept up for some twenty minutes, marching back and forth, firing their revolvers. While they did not make an attempt to break the car as known, yet their actions were such that Mrs. Stanford was completely terrorized and did not dare send any of her attendants from the car to the ranch for fear that the mob would shoot them down. By the time the citizens of Vina had discovered what was taking place the mob had dispersed, and it was well that they did for the people here were so shocked at the outrage that had the scoundrels been taken last evening there is strong probability that several telegraph poles would have been ornamented before daylight. Mrs. Stanford is now in San Francisco.

A special to the Record-Union from Vina late tonight states that the story of the attack on Mrs. Stanford's car originated from the fact that a number of young men were out on a sprea and discharged their firearms freely in order to make as much noise as possible, but that no shots were fired at her car.

Senator Jones Tells of His Acquisition of New Gold Property. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—(Spe-clal.) Senator John P. Jones of Nevada was reported by private letter, received here a few days ago, to have invested heavily in the new gold district in the mountains near Durango, Colo. It was stated that Sam Jones, a prother of the Sanator was on the Colo. It was stated that Sam Jones, a brother of the Senator, was on the ground, and that Marcus Daly, the copper king, and Delamar, owner of the Big Delamar mines, had bought different properties there, while Dwight Crittenden and other experts and moneyed men of this city had gone to the purported Eldorado.

There is a very interesting story told in this connection by Senator Jones himself. He is back from Washington for a ten days' stay and has recently spent a little time in Denver. 'It was while in Denver,' he said yesterday, "that I first heard of this new district. A man named Baker came to me there "that I first heard of this new district. A man named Baker came to me there and told me about it. The gold fields are about seven miles north of Durango in the La Plata Mountains, at an altitude of 10,000 feet, and there is ten feet of snow there now. Because of this we cannot tell exactly what the country is like. The spow is too deep to do anything. However, when I heard of the quantity of low-grade quartz there I wired my brother Sam and he went down, and while there bonded a number of claims.

heard of the quantity of low-grade quartz there I wired my brother Sam and he went down, and while there bonded a number of claims.

"The story of the ledge as told me by Baker seemed almost too big to believe. He reported to me that the ledge was from 200 to 300 feet thick, flat, and cut clear through the mountain. The ere is of low grade, which was just what he wanted. An inspection of the great ledge was made. We found it, as near as we could judge, as he had represented it to be. It was of hard quartz and having gold apparently all though. The ledge was not deoxidized, but very solid and nearly flat, cutting through the mountains. We located about half a mile of the face of it. The ledge was in size what had been stated, or say from 200 to 250 feet thick; possibly in some places it might go down 100 feet and then again to 200 feet. Pieces of quartz float when tested were found to run 36 a ton gold, and none of the ledge anywhere went less than this.

"Should the ledge prove, when the snow goes off, to be what it is represented, bigger mills will be required than have ever been put up before and they can run for an endless period, for the supply of quartz is enormous."

In the dell in the forest we espled some "mavericks," or unbranded stock writes Frederic Remington, in Harper's some "mavericks," or unbranded stock, writes Frederic Remington, in Harper's Magazine for February. The punchers are ever alert for a beef without half its ears gone and a big HF burned in its flank, and immediately they perceive one they tighten their cincha, slip the rope from the pommel, put their hats on the back of their heads, and "light out." A cow was soon caught, after desperate riding over rocks and fallen timber, thrown down, and "hog-tied," which means all four feet together. A little fire is built, and one side of a cincha ring is heated red-hot, with which a rawhide artist paints HF in the sizzling flesh, while the cow kicks and bawis. She is then unbound, and when she gets back on her, feet the vaqueros stand about, serape in hand, after the buil-fighter method, and provoke her to charge. She charges, while they avoid her by agile springs and a flaunting of their rags. They laugh, and cry "Bravo toro!" until she, having overcome her indignation at their rudeness, sets off down the canyon with her tail in the air.

The Law of Color in Flowers.

(Boston Transcript:) Once in a while some swindler in the nursery business attempts to cheat ignorant, people out of their money by advertising a new blue rose, or red violet, or yellow verbena, or blue carnation as if such a thing were possible. The law of color in flowers is a simple one, and is this. Any family of flowers that may have two of the three cardinal colors, red, yellow and blue, but never have all three, thus we have red and yellow roses but never blue ones; blue and yellow violets but never red ones; blue and red verbenas and salvias, but never yellow ones. The nearest aproach to an exception to this rule is perhaps found in tulips; these are often red and yellow, and sometimes purple, which is a combination of end and blue, but never pure blue. A handsome room under a canopy of smilax, bride roses and white hyacinths. A handsome bow and arrow hung from the center of the canopy and was most effective against the rich background of smilax. The mantel was hidden by the profusion of white roses and smilax. The pictures were gracefully wreathed with smilax and flowers. The music-room across the hall was ornamented with ferns and potted plants. A number of the wedding presents were displayed and attracted much attention. They consisted of silverware, bric-a-brac, Royal Worcester and jewelry. The decorations in the dining-room were of pink. A beautiful pale plak scarf tied in the center in a lovers' knot ornamented the table. Pink roses and maidenhair fern were scattered over the white cloth. The hall and stairway was lined with Japanese bamboo. Promptly at 8 o'clock the bridal party descended the stairs and entered the drawing-room to the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Frankenfield came first, followed by Miss Frankenfield, sister of the bride, and to the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Frankenfield came first, followed by Miss Frankenfield, sister of the bride, and maid of honor. She wore a gown of white silk brocaded in lavender, and carried a bouquet of violets. Then came the bride and groom. The bride looked beautiful in an elegant costume of white brocade silk, made in princess style and trimmed with accordion-plaited tulle and folds of duchesse satin. A tulle veil and bouquet of orange blossoms completed her toilette. She wore no jewelry save a pearl and diamond pendant, the gift of the groom. The party was met under the canopy by the Rev. J. W. Chichester and J. K. Urmston, who acted as best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played. Mr. and Mrs. Hines received the congratulations of those present. The guests were then shown into the dining-room, where a magnificent supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Hines left on the 10:30 train for San Francisco, where they will remain for two weeks. The bride's traveling gown was of green and blue changeable novelty goods, with otter muff, dark blue coat and hat to match. Mr. Hines is connected with the Hicks-Judd Publishing. Papago Cattle-thieves Brought - to Justice.

Another Railroad to Connect With the New North and South Line—The Southern Pacific's Latest Purchase—A Special Correspondence of The Times. TUCSON, Jan. 29.—The Papago In-dians of Southern Pima county have frequently been held forth as self-susfrequently been held forth as self-sus-taining, asking and receiving no help from Uncle Sam, and refusing to move to the reservation. Today in a justice's court one of the big items of their sup-port was brought to light. Two Indians, Jose Juan and Andres, were held for the grand jury for cattle-stealing. They were trailed for three days by the cattlemen, who at last overtook them with the carcasses of stock of their brands. Doubtless their usual haunts will not know them for the next two years, while they are at Yuma prison. Their fellows will be policed and doubtless a dozen more Indians will join them at Yuma shortly. Hundreds of cattle have been stolen by the Papagos in the past several months. Often the beef was sold to Mexican placer miners. The meat brought very low prices, $2.50 for two hind quarters eing a not unusual figure.

The only damage she did, outside of showing how civilized the sisters of the red tribe are becoming under the Christian teachings of the white missionaries that go among them, was the breaking of one of Gaddis & Co.'s window-panes. No arrest was made, as an officer remarked there, was little use in having a tendollar suit of clothes torn off him by dragging her before the benevolent sage who presides over Kingman's justice court, as he would only admonish the culprit to vamose and sin no more, while he would be out the clothes.

ANOTHER RAILROAD ENTERPRISE.

Growing out of the building of the new Santa Fe, Phoenix and Prescott toad has come another, a narrow-gauge, of the great copper camps of Arizona, Engineers are now on the ground, se-lecting a feasible route, one which will not cost too much to make it profitable to operate. All going favorably, as is now probable, work will be instituted on the completion of the survey and finished by next winter. The intention is to start from Jerome station, on s to start from Jerome station, on the Santa Fe, Phoenix and Prescott Railroad, or at some point on the line near there. Very favorable rates have een secured from the Santa Fe and Santa Fe, Phoenix and Prescott, for he transportation of the material re quired in its construction.

CHECKERS AN ANCIENT GAME. During the long winter evenings the game of checkers is a favorite pastime During the long winter evenings the game of checkers is a favorite pastime with many people in Arizona. Few who indulge in this game realize, however, that it originated thousands of years ago, and, if not a native of Arizona soil, was played here long before the discovery of America by Columbus. Slates of stone marked like checker boards, together with the pieces used in the game, have been found in the ancient cliff dwellings of New Mexico and Arizona. The game is now common among the Zuni Indians of the Territory. Among them it is known as the "A wi thdak na kive," or "stone warrior." The 144 squares of the board are marked disgonally, and on the intersection of these at each end are set seven round pieces. To distinguish them apart, one set is perforated, and in each set one piece is much longer than the other, and is known as "Pi thlan shi wani," or the "Priest of the Bow."

THE NORTH AND SOUTH ROAD.

THE NORTH AND SOUTH ROAD. THE NORTH AND SOUTH ROAD.

The new railroad from Prescott to Phoenix will be 136 miles in length and will run two passenger trains each way per day. Contractor Hughes moved camp yesterday out to mile 73. He is now located between Trainor and Brady and has about two-thirds of a mile of work which will take him till March 1 to complete.

ANOTHER SOUTHERN DACHAGE TO ANOTHER SOUTHERN PACIFIC EX-TENSION.

At Phoenix it is generally under-

At Phoenix it is generally understood that the Southern Pacific has purchased the Maricopa and Phoenix road. A party of officials were there a day or two ago. Col. Mastern, the manager of the little road, has resigned his position. Should this expectation be realized Phéonix, instead of being an inconvenient terminus of a badly operated line, will be made in effect an important point on the main line of the Southern Pacific in the enjoyment of all the concessions which a city of such position and commercial prominence demands. This is the most effective stroke yet made in Arizona by the Southern Pacific in its contest with the Santa Fe for the possession of the rich agricultural region of the Salt River Valley and will do much to divide the business of the valley, which otherwise could have but one outlet, and that a northern one.

BREVITIES The Supreme Court has adjourned till upon it. About all of these have been touched upon and much preliminary work done upon many.

It is nearly invariable in Arizona that its wanderers return. The following is an instance. Says the Prescott Journal-Miner: "W. G. Harrell says he has come to Arizona to stay this time. He came to the Territory first in 1866 and has left it five or six times only to return again, but this time he says he has come to remain permanently."

More capital will be invested in mines and lands in Mohave county this year than in all the years since it was organized. Irrigation schemes will catch the money of investors, and this class of investment will return big money to the promoters.

It is a matter for regret that the cowboy and Indian outfit at the Midwinter Fair attracts attention to Arizona more than her fruits and grains and other products of mine and field sent there, Arizofa's 5 per cent. Territorial bonds, of which Congress authorized an issue of $2.000,000, are eagerly sought after at par, and these bonds are not payable in gold coin, either.

Thus far not over a dozen Chinese have registered under the McCreary law, in Arizona. In New Mexico thirty have compiled. Arizona has 1170 Chinese. New Mexico has 380.

Building operations are brisk. The latest at Phoenix was a $3500 residence, a $3000 lodging-house and a brick cottage. In Tucson a dozen buildings of an average value of $1000 are going up. Everywhere in the Territory young trees are being set out. The aggregate will be enormous.

The drill now being gone through daily by troops at Whipple is what is known as the "setting up" drill, and is mainly exercise of all the muscles of the body to make men supple. The other day a Mexican was found dead in his bed at Morenci. It was afterward ascertained that the man had been killed by his son with a club. After killing the father the son dragged the dead body across the room, put it in the bed, and slept in the same bed three nights. The murderer was arrested.

The Heat of the Sun.

(New York Ledger:) The mechanical energy of one square yard of the sun's surface would keep an ocean steamship under full headway. If all the coal in the earth were put into one large heap and kindled with an unlimited supply of oxygen for its combustion, it would not give out heat sufficient to replace that lost by the sun in one-thousandth part of a second of time. In the balk of flaming matter which we call the sun clouds of carbon are continually rising to the surface, and remain there to glow with inconceivable intensity.

By the help of photography, aided by the spectroscope, the cloudy surface of the sun can now be examined. Previously the corona, which is really a crown of fiery tongues of flame—many of them 50,000 miles in lergith—could only be seen during an eclipse, but now we have photographs which show these flames to be ever darting forth and flickering from the sun's disk. These mighty flames occupy a quarter of an hour in performing a single flicker:

What Dreams are Made of.

(Dr. Louis Robinson, in the North American Review:) Speaking.very gen-erally, one may say that during sleep the brain does an immense amount of sions. It would also appear that some process akin to stock-taking, and the rumaging of out-of-the-way corners, also goes on when the judgment and the will are taking a holiday. In considering the raw material of dreams, we must take into account a certain amount of cerebral activity during the whole period of sleep—the unbroken current of ideas that passes through the sleeping brain, and which reveals itself to the unconscious ego only when some disturbing element intervenes. We may compare it to an invisible and silent river, flowing by without betraying its presence, save when there is a ing its presence, save when there is a splash of a fish or a falling stone or some foaming eddy, when a rock breaks the smooth surface.

Sometimes knocks at our doors, and often we do not stop-to listen. Granting that there is less work to do-temporarily—and lower wages, almost everything to eat, almost everything to wear, and almost everything in house-nitings have been knocked down in price until many things are now selling under compulsion lower than they will cost under any conditions that are likely to occur again.

Sterling silver is at the lowest notch it ever can come to. Think of it!—6 sterling Silver Teaspoons for $8.00. One dollar an ounce for any weight of spoon you may fancy. We have a full line of all patterns and weights.

Ladies buy at least a half-dozen teaspoons for yourself, or if you don't need them buy them for your young daughter; she will go housekeeping soon and silver spoons are always acceptable. You will surely save money. Our price for these same goods has been at least 50 per cent. more: in fact, we are selling today silver that cost as high as $1.40 an ounce lor one dollar an ounce. It's not our profit that is reduced, but the fact that silver has fallen to such a low price that has reduced the value of spoons and forks. All goods that are bought and sold by the ounce we sell at ONE DOLLAR AN OUNCE:

ONE DOLLAR AN OUNCE! Don't you want a slice of this big pie? It can't last very long. Come in today and buy at least 6 Teaspoons.

[RAILROAD RECORD.] FOR A TOWN

The Southern California Road's Fight.

The Company Likely to Lose the Town Site.

A Receiver Wanted for the Colorado Midland Line.

Union Pacific Employees' Case in Court-Roads Dealing With the Scalpers-General Local and Personal Mention.

The San Francisco Chronicle of Tues day had this: "An interesting case promises soon to be made of record in the Circuit Court of Appeals. That tribunal will be asked to reverse a decision by which the California South-ern Railroad Company, a branch of the Santa Fe system, has been deprived of all property rights in the town of Barstow, San Bernardino county. Attorney Henry Ach of this city enjoys the distinction of having won from the railroad the entire town. Ach repre-sents Jesse Lillienthal of New York, successor in interest to one Bugbee who was the original settler on the property in controversy. Barstow is situated on the land claimed by Bugbee, and, being the terminal point of the California Southern line, is a town of no little importance. Some twenty acres of land the railroad improved by the erection of depot buildings, machine shops and storehouses and the mapping out of switch yards, depot grounds and the like. All of this valuable property the railroad now stands in a fair way to lose in consequence of a decision rendered in favor of Lilienthal by Circuit Judge Ross at Los Angeles. Lilienthal sued to eject the railroad company, claiming that the corporation occupied his property without any right of law. "The railroad claimed a title growing out of the act of Congress of 1875, providing how and in what manner railroad corporations might acquire governments." bee, and, being the terminal point of road corporations might acquire ernment land on their right-of-way roment land on their right-of-way for station grounds, switch-yards and the like. Judge Ross held, however, that the railroad did not comply with the provisions of the law. He considered that the title of Lilienthal could not be impeached, and directed judgment accordingly. The effect of the court's decision was to award Lilienthal practically the entire town of Barstow, together with all the railroad company's buildings and other improvements. Counsel for the railroad did not rest quietly under this sweeping judgment, but promptly presented a motion for a new trial. That motion Judge Ross has now denied in an opinion which still more strongly affirms the rights of Lilienthal."

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 31.—(By the Associated Press.) The Central Trust Company of New York has applied to the Federal Court for a receiver for the Colorado Midland road, which the company avers will default on the interest due tomorrow on $4,800,000 bonds. The court has taken the matter under advisement. This action makes evident the import of the gathering here within the past three days of the receivers of the Atchison system and trust company representatives. The Colorado Midland is separately operated as a portion of the Atchison system, the main line reaching from Colorado Springs to Newcastle, Colo, aggregating, with branches, 350 miles. In addition to the mortgage on which interest is likely to be defaulted the road has a first mortgage amounting to $6,250,000 and other mortgages of $86,000, besides floating debts amounting to $2,000,000, which the management has been unable to meet. The bonds are in the hands of the Central Trust Company of New York as trustees and this company made an application for a receiver. Pending the decision Judge Caldwell issued an injunction restraining all persons from interfering with the road by attachment or otherwise.

EMPLOYEES ASK FOR TIME. DENVER, Jan. 31.—(By the Associ-ted Press.) Judge Hallett has desigated Press.) Judge Hallett has designated Monday next as the day on which he would hear the argument in the application of the Union Pacific to have the order of Judge Bundy in the matter of a reduction of wages entered and approved by him. This is in opposition to the employees, who, through their attorney, asked for sixty days in which to prepare their case.

A corps of surveyors is at work between Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek along the route of Bear Creek Canyon. The distance is only twenty-five miles. Thus far the great gold camp is reached only by the Santa Fe road through the Midland Terminal, while the Denver and Rio Grande is building from Florence. The Rock Ishand is responsible for the new route now being surveyed.

Chairman Caldwell has issued a sweeping order that no association line should have any dealings, either directly or indirectly, with scalpers. "OLD GLORY."

The Flag Must Fly Continuously—A Point o Patriotism.

There is no let up from the indignant veterans and patriots generally in New Tork, Ohio and one or two States in their expression of disap-proval of the absence of "Old Glory" States in their expression of disapproval of the absence of "Old Glory" from the National Capitol building at all hours. They continue to deluge Congress with petitions asking for an appropriation with which to purchase and have constantly flying an American flag over the United States Capitol. There have been two misleading reports circulated in connection with the absence of a flag at all times upon the National Capitol building. There are flagstaffs upon the north and southends of the Capitol, and immediately when the Senate and House conveneare run up by direction of the sergeantat-arms of those two bodies, and when adjournment is had the flags are run down. This is done for the purpose of indicating to those in the distance whether or not either house of Congress is in session. Then there is on the central portion of the building, west front, overlooking the city, another flagstaff.

It has always been supposed that this was a general staff and upon it would always fly the American flag. There is a dispute as to whether under Republican administrations the flag was always flying on this staff, the Republicans now contending that it could always be seen, while the Democrats hold that it was only flown when the Superior Court was in session. Be that as it may Republicans in both branches of Congress contend that this staff is for a flag representing the Union and that a flag for it must always be kept in view; that there is no law for or sense in having it flying simply when the Supreme Court is in session. The capitol buildings in all foreign countries are always distinguished by the flag of the country and it is kept flying at all times. There is always a flag flying over the White House and each one of the eight executive departments and this technical ruling of the leaders of the party in control at the Capitol that the general flag over the central portion of the building is not to represent the Union, but the sessions of the Supreme Court, is undoubtedly born of a lack of patriotism. At any rate a bill is to be passed making an appropriation for a flag to be hoisted over the Capitol continuously.

THE MORO BAY IMPROVEMENT CO. This company having recently placed its property, known as the townsite of El Moro for sale on our market, it might be well to state something about its affairs.

The Moro Bay Improvement Company was organized and incorporated August 27, 1891. Its capital stock was $300,000, all of which was subscribed and paid for. The officers of the company are very reliable gentlemen, and are well known throughout California. The president of the company, Hon. L. C. Branch, is a heavy owner of real estate in San Luis the company, Hon. L. C. Branch, is a heavy owner of real estate in San Luis Oblspo, Stanislaus, Fresho, Ventura and other counties; was County Clerk of Stanislaus county, member of the Legislature of 1830 and 1831, and bears a splendid reputation. J. J. Scrivner, the vice-president, is the most prominent patent lawyer on this Coast; is the vice-president of the California and Nevada Railroad, now running through Oakland, with terminal facilities on San Francisco Bay; was formerly State Prison Director; is a man of wealth and influence, and widely known. Judge G. W. Schell, one of the directors, was a member of the Constitutional Convention, was a prominent judge in Stanislaus county for several years; was a member of the Board of State Prison Directors; has held many positions of trust and honor, and is very popular in this State. It was he who made the famous reply to Gen. Barnes in the Constitutional Convention. Dr. C. W. Decker, another director, is the leading dentist of San Francisco. He is an officer in several of our leading societies, and is the past grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West. L. F. Gilmore, the company's secretary, is a man of great business capacity, and bears a most excellent reputation. He is a stockholder in the California and Nevada Railroad, and has large interests in San Luis Oblspo city and county. He also heavy owner of real estate in San Luis Ratiroad, and has large interests in San Railroad, and has large interests in San Luis Obispo city and county. He also has mining interests. He is a man of great force, and will allow nothing to mar his pathway to success. The com-pany's property, known as El Moro, and comprising nearly 1100 acres on Moro Bay, is probably one of the finest lo-Bay, is probably one of the finest lo-cations on our Coast for a town or sea-side resort. It is the finest location on Moro Bay, and was pronounced by rail-road engineers as a natural spot for a prosperous town. It has a gentle slope backwards from the bay, above whose backwards from the bay, above whose waters it stands twenty or thirty feet. The soil is a dark, sandy loam, and is covered with a strong growth of grasses and wild flowers, and many park-like groves of oak and other trees. The comwharf, laid out streets and planted sev wharf, laid out streets and planted several thousand trees, etc. Improvements are going on every day, as the pay-roll of the company will show at any time. It is the only company handling townsite property in San Luis Obispo county that is spending or has spent any money in improvements or that means business. A large petition, signed by property-owners of San Luis Obispo county, has been forwarded to Congress asking for an appropriation for the improvement of Moro Bay, together with a report from the pilot, showing the date and the names of all vessels entering the harbor since January 1, 1890. Letters have been re-State by due process of a Keokuk court.

With the Colorado Midland in the hands of receivers, only two lines in the Santa Fe system will remain out of the receivership—the Southern California and Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe.

The Pennsylvania system, the Big Four and the Lake Erie and Western Have been served with notices of boycott by the Western Passenger Association unless they immediately ceased the manipulation of rates through Western territory.

A grain war of high degree has sprung up like a mushroom between Missouri River points and Chicago. The trouble has been seething for some time, but openly assumed large proportions on the 25th. The last effect of the disturbance was the quotation on that date, by the Atchison, of a 9 cent rate on wheat and an 8 cent rate on corn from Missouri River points to Chicago.

A corps of surveyors is at work between Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek along the route of Bear Creek in Eastern cities, for the sale of mileage books and ticket orders. Under association rules such deals are illegal, and the chairman ordered their immediate cancellation.

General Traffic Manager Gray, the Southern Pacific Company's representative at the recent passenger agents convention at Chicago, is still in that city. He started home five days ago, and was due in San Francisco Monday, but, after reaching Omaha, received a telegraphic request to return to Chicago and once more lend his assistance in patching up a truce in the passenger rate controversy that has raged for so many months.

H. R. Parcels of San Francisco, who has been with the company for the past two years, and who is in every way familiar with their property, will shortly visit Los Angeles in the company's interest. Mr. Parcels's father is a well-known real estate agent of Los Angeles, and his uncle was for several years an officer of the country. In conclusion, we desire to state that the Moro Bay Improvement Company is composed of good material, and their property is a first-class investment.

Another Meeting of the Labor Commission.

Lists to Be Kept of All Those Who Fail to Report for Work-The Names

The Labor Commission met yester-day and prepared a list of names of the unemployed to be put to work this morning. It has been arranged that a record shall be kept of the number of those who do not report for duty this morning. Another list will be made out of other applicants equal in number to that of those who do not report for duty. This list will be posted in front of the City Hall this afternoon. taken tomorrow, and each succeeding day, and a list made up from applicants not yet employed will be posted each afternoon. As the wages to be paid are but $1$ per day, it is expected that the number of those working will be constantly diminished, as they find better jobs and the places of those who leave will be filled with other applicants. It is expected that for the present the men on the list made out yesterday will be kept at work so long as they report each morning for duty. As an improvement on the present cumbrous system of making out a separate demand for the wages of each of the men, it is expected that some arrangement will be made whereby the money can on each alternate day be taken to the places where the men are working, and paid to them there. In the list made out yesterday there are $350 men, besides the foremen and men with teams. The list is as follows:

TAKEN WELL CARE OF.

How the People Wilt Walk for Miles and Miles.

Since Monday last, the people of Los Angeles have been blessed with a place that they longed for, to get a good meal and quickly served. The Royal Bakery has adopted a rule to give good meals and served quickly. It has proven a great success. People walk for miles to come to the Royal Bakery Restaurant, at No. 118 South Spring street, and get their dinners, as well as their lunches. For every dinner the Royal Bakery has extra fancy dishes on their bill of fare. Everything served in the best of style and at prices that cannot be equalled. Breakfast—Supper.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the line properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."

HOME DYEING MADE EASY,

HANDSOME COLORS THAT NEVER FADE.

It's Easy to Dye With Diamond Dyes-Does Not Crock - Makes Old Cloaks,

"It is really marvelous," said a Spring-street druggist, "how the hard times have increased the sale of diamond dyes. Ladles buy one package as an experiment, and find the dye so easy to use that they color all their old clothing, and come out with new gowns, cloaks and suits for the whole family. The diamond black dyes seem especially popular, I often selling half a dozen packages to one customer."

dyes have been the favorite family dyes in Los Angeles, and although imitation package dyes have been offered for sale, on account of their inferiority to the diamond in strength, fastness and beauty, they could not get any last special dyes for cotton. Their fast-black dyes are so simple and easy to use that even a child can dye a perfect color with them, one that will not fade, crock or wash out. There are three different kinds (for wool, for cotton and for silk and feathers,) and they all make a full, rich black, equal to the handsomest shade made by the professional dyer.

DR. WARNER'S CORALINE CORSETS.

Twenty-five styles, long waist, medium waist and short waist; perfect fitting; absolutely unbreakable. These Corsets have the largest sale of any ever made. Eight of the leading stores of Los Angeles sell these popular Corsets. This is conclusive evidence of their great merit. Ten Cases—making 250 dozen—3000 Corsets—have come into Los Angeles from Warner Bros.' factory during the month of January. These Corsets are great favorites with the ladies in every city of the United States, because they are perject fitting and unbreakable. They challenge comparison. Guaranteed to be superior in shape and workmanship. Eight merchants of Los Angeles especially commend them to the ladies of Los Angeles and Southern California. The $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2 and $2,50 Corsets are admitted by competent judges to be the best value in the United States.

FOR SALE—IT IS TRUE AS WE REPresented last season that the Garvey tract is frostless and the cheapest or ange and lemon land on the market. The years 1892 and 1894 will long be remembered as the cold winters in this latitude. Do ou ask for a more severe test as to frostless localities? Both seasons have demonstrated that the Garvey tract is the locality. Go out and see the 150 acres set last season to oranges and lemons. Water is now available for the whole tract. The large storage reservoir is nearly completed.

We are offering this land in lots of 10 acres at our old price of $400 per acre, with an inch of water appurtenant to each ten acres. This land lies within four miles of Los Angeles city limits is also convenient to Pasadena, and only 2 miles from Alhambra, in one of the most picturesque residence localities about the city. The price named above we will not guarantee for any length of time. From any portion the thriving towns nestling along the foothills of the Sierra Madre range are in full view. We can show you as fine lots as we have sold.

as all miners know, it is only once in a lifetime that there is quantity as well quality. It cannot be expected that there will be any marked revival in silver mining until the status of the white metal has been established on firmer basis.

Meantime, however, "what is one man's meat is another man's poison," and the decline in silver mining has given a decided impetus to the search for gold, which is now being prosecuted from Alaska to Mexico with a vigor which has not been known for many years. In this movement California is more directly interested than any other State or Territory, as when it comes to the production of gold this State has at present no serious competitor, except, perhaps, Colorado. It is a com-mon belief among those who have not investigated the subject that the gold mines of California are played out.

This, according to the almost unanimous testimony of experts, is a great error. It is true that the visible ources of placer gold have been depleted, and that the more easily-worked quartz veins have been taken up, but deep down in the Sierra Nevada there

ARIZONA.

There are several important colonization enterprises now under way in Arizona which promise to largely increase the population of that Territory within the next few years. The advance which has been made by Arizona in a horticultural direction during the past five years has been quite remarka-A dozen years ago, when the Tombstone mines drew the attention of the country to the land of sunshine and silver, scarcely anyone outside of the Territory was aware that anything but cactus and mesquit could be made to grow down there. Now however, there are already thousand ousands of acres of orchard and vineyard along the valleys of the Salt and Gila rivers and canals have been constructed which will irrigate sufficient lands for hundreds of thousands of acres more. Already Arizona fruits are being shipped East in coniderable quantities and may be found in the markets of the great cities. Arizona is just now in the transition stage, through which California passed about twenty-five years ago, and, judging from what has already been accomplished, we may expect to see a wonderful transformation in the Territory within the next decade.

With statehood, which now appears to be a certainty within a very brief time, the land of the Gila monster and sahuara will enter upon its career as a garden instead of a desert and will add one more to the marvelous proofs of what can be accomplished in the arid West by means of water. The people of Los Angeles watch with interest and sympathy the development of this Territory which they regard as portion of their back country.

THE PRECIOUS METALS.

The annual report of the precious metals produced in the Western States and Territories during 1893, which was published in The Times a few days ago, furnishes some interesting food for reflection. The total product of gold, silver, copper and lead for the twelve months amounted to $104,081,591. The falling off during the past five years has been steady and it is shown by the following figures: 1889 $127,677,836 1890 $127,166,410 1891 $18,237,441 93 104,081,591 Of the total product of gold, amounting to about $31,500,000, the largest amount was produced by California, which yielded over $11,000,000 of the yellow metal. Next comes Colorado, with $7,229,643, Montana with $3,100,500. and Dakota with $2,283,000. In the pro duction of silver Colorado is far in the lead, having shipped silver bullion by express to the amount of $16,369,257. Montana comes second with $10,730,000, after which there is a big drop to Idaho, with $1,481,973, and Nevada with 31,236,869. It will thus be seen that the total product of gold and silver in Colorado amounted to more than $23,500,000. placing it far in the lead among the States and Territories as a producer of the precious metals, Montana coming next with about $13,800,000. Colorado has rapidly come to the front in this respect during the past few years, while Arizona has gone backward. The silver product of Arizona for the twelve months only amounted to $225,000. This is a big falling off since the days when the Tombstone mines were in their glory, Colorado and Montana now have a right to figure as the leading mineral producers of the United States. In view of the changes which have taken within the past ten years, it would, however, be rash to predict that There are other sections which may in turn come to the front. Even Alaska, which produced in 1893 gold to the amount of nearly $1,000,000, may before many years become a serious competitor of those States and Territories which are now in the first rank as builion thus doing away with the recently thus doing away with the recently established system of detailing army would be as decidedly a step backward as it would be to supplant the United States Army by a number of bands of Pinkerton detectives. The Internal Revenue Bill was adopted as an amendment to the Wilson Tariff Bill yesterday by a vote of 175 to 56. The principal fight of the day came upon the proposal to increase the tax upon whisky from 90 cents to $1, and extend the bonded period from three to eight years. The proposition to extend the bonded period was stricken out, while the increase of the whisky tax from 90 cents to $1 was allowed to stand. WORK OF WOMEN.

Interesting Papers Read Before the Meeting.

Education and the Poverty Problem Discussed.

Man, and How to Live With Him in the Household," the Subject of the Closing Debate-Delegates In Attendance

The Woman's Parliament of South Distinguished and elo quent women from the seven countles were present, and if there are any old "hayseeds" who think that "woman's sphere" is simply washing dishes, sewing and baking, and they could have put their heads into this crowd of visitors, these same old "hayseeds" would have thought they had dropped into another world. Every branch of woman's work was discussed and included such weighty subjects as "Education," "The Poverty Problem," "Occupation," "The Home" and the subjects were handled in a most admirable manner. In fact a poor, forlorn man could not help asking the question, "Where am I at?"

The parliament met Tuesday morning and the time was spent in routine business. The meeting opened with prayer and was followed by music, roil call, reading of minutes, reports of secretaries, treasurer and other sphere" is simply washing dishes, sew-prayer and was followed by music, roll call, reading of minutes, reports of secretaries, treasurer and other routine matters. Tuesday afternoon the subject of "Education" was taken up, and interesting and instructive papers read by Mrs. Isabel W. Pierce of Los Angeles and Mrs. Mary Bennett Goodcell of San Bernardino. The subject of Mrs. Pierce's paper was. "The Kindergarten" and of Mrs. Goodcell's paper "The High School." Both of the ladies showed thorough knowledge of this work and received and merited the applause of the audience. At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening the parliament took up the poverty problem. The first address was by Mrs. Myra D. Campbell of Los Angeles. Her subject was "Bricks Without Straw." She held that the inequality of master and slave, riches and poverty and strength and weakness had been a subject which had interested and troubled mankind ever since the edict went forth that man should live by the sweat of his brow.

went forth that man should live by the sweat of his brow.

Next followed a duet by the Misses Means and an address by Rev. Ada C. Bowles of the Universalist Church, Pomona. Her subject was "Can the Incompetent be Made Self-supporting?" Mrs. Bowles has gained an enviable reputation upon the Pacific Coast by her talent and taste in the literary field. The subject was handled in a manner which showed careful study, and many good suggestions were made in regard to incompetent men and women and their care.

WEDDRESDAY SESSION

Wednesday morning the spacious church was filled with women, all in-terested in woman's work. The meet-ing was called to order by the presi-dent, Mrs. Elmira Stevens of Los

The first subject discussed was "The The first subject discussed was "The Trained Nurse." A paper was read by the general secretary. Mrs. Mary S. Gibron of Los Angeles, the author's name being withheld by request. Louise M. Harvey, M. women in this department was fully explained.

The next paper was on "Seed. Bulb and Plant-growing." The subject was handled by Mrs. T. B. Shepherd of Ventura. The ladies found that the cultivation of plants was useful and instructive and that household duties were certainly lightened by the help of these silent messengers of love and beauty. Mrs. Shepherd said that there was no reason why California should not supply the thousands of dollars worth of seeds and builbs that are annually imported into the United States.

"The Home" was the next subject discussed. A paper was read by Mrs. Ella P. Hubbard of Los Angeles. Mrs. Hubbard was by no means in favor of giving over all the work of the home to servants, but held that there was no higher nor better work for woman then to make home happy. She held that the that the public schools should teach cooking and household cares and that brains and education were necessary in doing the work of the home and that as long as the work was turned over to ignorant servants the self-respecting girls would not prepare themselves for the work. Wanton waste of household as long as the work was turned over to ignorant servants the self-respecting girls would not prepare themselves for the work. Wanton waste of household supplies was a sin, and the training of household servants a necessity. She was followed by Mrs. Mary Gould of Los Angeles who advanced some new thoughts on the same subject. Mrs. Galbreth thought there was no use in a mother breaking her back at home when her strong son was at play. Her address was strongly applauded and well received. Teach your sons to help their mothers. Housekeepers lived in terror of a possible "somebody" who might come in. The president thought co-operative home work was the proper thing for the household. The girls should not be afraid of the upright piano of old time. A mother ought to be ashamed to make an evening dress for a young girl who is yet in school. Rev. Ada Bowles, Rev. Florence Pierce and others made interesting speeches on the subject.

The parliament closed with a meeting Wednesday evening. The subject was "Man, and How to Live Rightly With Him in the Household."

The meeting has been full of interest throughout. The ladies proved conclusively that the Bible, economy, interest in the home and the philosophical and chemical analysis of food was not on the wane, but on the increase in the home—woman's greatest place to work.

BIG LAND SUIT.

A Million and a Half Acres in Dirpute.

suit Filed by the United States District Attorney Against the Southern Pacific Company-Territory in Controversy.

States Circuit Court yesterday by Dist. Atty. Denis on behalf of the United States against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, G. O. Mills and G. L. Lansing, trustees, the Central Trust Company of New York, the Southern Pacific Company of Kentucky and the Colorado River Irrigation Company, to quiet title to about one and a half mil-lion acres of land along the lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad Com-pany.

complaint in this action, after The complaint in this action, after describing the lands in controversy and reciting the fact that the United States acquired title to them from Mexico in 1846, which treaty was confirmed by that of Guadalupe Hidalgo in 1848, sets forth the following allegations:

That by the act of Congress of July 27, 1866, the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company was incorporated and granted certain lands, and the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, authorized to connect with and aid in its construction.

That by the act of Congress of March ern Pacific Railroad Company, authorized to connect with and aid in its construction.

That by the act of Congress of March 3, 1871, the Texas Pacific Railroad Company was incorporated and granted lands, and that on October 15, 1871, upon the filing by it of a map designating its line of route from Marshall, Tex., to San Diego, the United States withdrew and reserved all odd sections of land within sixty miles of the boundaries of Mexico and within twenty miles of said line of route. That for the purpose of connecting the Texas Pecific road with the city of San Francisco said act also authorized the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to construct a line from the Tehachepi Pass, via Los Angeles, to the Colorado River. That owing to the non-compliance of the Texas Pacific Railroad Company with the conditions of said act, all the lands and rights granted to it in California and Arlzona were forfeited on February 28, 1885, and said lands were restored to the public domain by act of Congress.

That the claims of the defendants that a railroad line and telegraph have been constructed and favorably reported on by the commissioners appointed by the President of the United States, are false and unfounded.

That none of said lands were granted to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company by said act of March 3, 1871, nor were they included in any grant to said company or any of the defendants, but were reserved and otherwise claimed, and are still owned by the United States.

United States.

That the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, on August 12, 1873, without authority from the United States or Congress, entered into articles of incorporation and consolidated with the Southern Pacific Branch Railroad Company, thereby creating a new corporation, and surrendering to the United States all grants, rights, franchises and privileges conferred upon the first Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

That the adverse claims of the defendants prevent the Department of the Interior from selling or disposing of said lands under the laws of the United States; and that, while claiming and pretending to own some interest in them, they are cutting and Femoving timber, wood, mineral, etc., therefrom. It is therefore sought to quiet title to said lands, and enjoin defendants from asserting or claiming title thereto, and from removing timber, etc., there-from.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Graduating Exercises of the Class of '94.

Los Angeles Theater Filled by an Appreciative Audience.

Essays by the Members of the Graduating Class.

per of the Board of Education-Principal Cates's

Notwithstanding the large gatherings at other places last evening the gradu-ating exercises of the winter class of the High School were well attended The Los Angeles Theater was well filled with an audience of those who had, by their attendance, manifested their interest in the High School and its work.
The decorations were appropriate.

their interest in the High School and its work.

The decorations were appropriate, and quite elaborate. It was a few minutes after 8 o'clock when the orchestra struck up "The Fiddler of Waost," by Herman, and the curtain slowly rose, showing the members of the graduating class seated in a semicircle with Principal E. E. Cates, Assistant Principal Margaret J. Frick, Florence A. Dunham and President Pepper of the Board of Education, seated to the extreme right.

Shortly before the evening exercises were begun the middle "B" class, with colors flying and canes flourishing, filed in and were seated in front of the audience and just behind the orchestra. Six of the members were seated on an elevation in the rear of the others. The young men and women were seated alternately so that the black suits of the young men formed an agreeable contrast with the dainty white costumes of the "sweet girl graduates."

The scene was an attractive one, palm branches being mounted behind the graduates so as to produce a fine effect. A star and crescent pin made up of white flowers with green trimmings overhung the stage.

As soon as the orchestra had concluded, Edmund Myer Lazard, the salutatorian, stepped to the front and in a dignified manner called attention to the fact that the class would for but a few minutes yet remain students of the High School. His remarks in beginning were directed to the rapidity with which time had gone by during the school days of the class. In behalf of its members he thanked the people for what they had done in giving to the use of the students the High School and the opportunities which they there had to obtain a better knowledge of the affairs of men. Coming to the body of his cration, he spoke on the subject "Two Patriots," referring to Washington and Hampden. He touched upon the unselfish devotion to the cause of liberty as shown by these two men. Washington, he said, was surrounded by men who had seldom been equaled. At other times they would have shone as stars of the first magnitude, but in th who had seldom been equaled. At other times they would have shone as stars of the first magnitude, but in the light of this great sun (meaning Washington) they paled into insignificance. It was in this respect much the same with Hampden. There was a great deal to emulate the characters of both.

The essay of Miss Della Blanche Nagle was on "Lands in Fiction." Nearly every sentence of her production showed a thorough knowledge of that on which she was speaking. She reviewed, somewhat in brief, the works of Dickens and other authors. Her description of the lands in different countries, as told of in the works of Dickens, and other writers, was a beautiful one. As the speaker touched upon these pen paintings, much vividness was added to the pictures by the fascinating style in which she seemed almost unconsciously to be telling of them. A round of liberal applause was awarded her as she resumed her seat.

Next on the programme was a vocal solo by Miss Jennie Kempton. The encore she received showed that her singing had pleased the audience greatly.

"Times of Agis and Our Own," was the subject announced for Walter Herbert Stevens, but a note on the bottom of the printed programme stated that he had been excused from speaking.

Miss Gertrude Venning read an essay on "Women and Mathematics." She said it was not safe in these days to assume that a woman could not master any subject—not even that of mathematics. This subject had had more or less known of it for 3000 years or over. Every one could, to some extent, let his sar shine. It was to be observed that women were not admitted to the educational institutions of these days. There was, however. Caroline to the educational institutions of these days. There was, however, Caroline Herschel, who discovered a number of Herschel, who discovered a number of comets and made a map containing stars not previously placed on maps. She then went on to give a passing notice of a number of women who had attained prominence in the mathematical world, and demonstrated by numerous examples cited that woman was more and more rising in reasoning power. The speaker was heartily applauded.

power. The speaker was heartily appliauded.

Augustus Dalton Harper, in compliance with a request that had been made by the class, spoke of "The Future American." He traced briefly the rapidly increasing pace of the development of education. He said that the idea of liberty which had taken root in this American soil had slowly permeated the whole country until it had to an astonishing degree spread into the regions of the whole world. He touched upon the wonderful inventions of Edison and others and predicted achievements still greater than any of those which, a few years ago wondered at, had become almost necessities in business life. All men would in time find that the basis of all good government was the inalienable recognition of individual rights. The future American would be shapely in physicue and would have a will-power which those of other nations would not fail to respect. Arbitration would in time be resorted to in the settlement of disputes. The whole world looked to America as the greaf central figure and she responded with Liberty enlightening the world. (Applause.)

Mattie Estrella Williamson spoke of "Iphigenia and Agamemnon." Her manner of telling the allegorical story indicated by the subject was graceful. She was listened to with close attention. Her effort was greeted with a storm of applause.

The next number on the printed programme was a violin solo, Strobbe's "The Old Folks at Home," by Dion Romandy. Principal Cates announced that that gentleman had yielded his place to Miss Kempton, and she rendered a lively song very acceptably.

The oration of Melville Dozier, Jr., was on "True Courage." He treated the subject in a fair and dignified manner. He said there was a difference between courage and desperation. Cases of the latter were, however, sometimes confounded with those of the former. The establishment of missions on the Western frontier by the monks and fathers of a century or so ago was cited as one of t day were as great heroes as the knights of old. There was vigorous hand-clapping as he closed.

Miss Christine Clark spoke of the "Eve of St. Agnes." Her description of some of the scenes in the life of the sain'ly nun named in the subject was true to nature and really artistic. The celebrations held in some countri-is on the anniversary of that evening were touched upon. The charming poem was rendered the more charming by the manner in which the young lady reviewed- it. She was warmly applauded as she resumed her seat.

A violin solo with plano accompaniment at this time by Dion Romandy was given in which he exhibited a skill in the handling of his instrument that was evidently very pleasing to the audience, for he was generously encored.

An oration on "Excessive Processive

An oration on "Excessive Freedom" was delivered by George Nathan Black, the valedictorian. He said the love of liberty was something which had from time to time shown itself from the earliest ages of man. There was such a thing, however, even as the abuse of a privilege, and there might be too great liberty. Russia was cited as the one blot upon the escutcheon of the close of the nineteenth century.

One of the staunchest of nations, he said, and yet one of the strongest upholders of liberty was little Switzerland. That country knew where the limit of true liberty was and where excess began. Descending from the plateaux of that country to the vineclad land of France the atmospheric barometer would rise but the political barometer would fall. France was, as it were, swinging like a pendulum from an excess of freedom to the other exterme. There were to be seen in America indications of too great an exercise of freedom. Laws should be so made and enforced that one political party could not gerrymander away the rights of the other.

In his valedictory remarks he said that it was hoped that the generosity of the patrons of the High School would be brought about by that generosity of the patrons of the High School would be brought about by that generosity. Turning from the audience to the faculty he said a number of complimentary things. Addressing his classmates he spoke pathetically of the occasion as being the last one perhaps on which all the members of the class would meet together.

Principal Cates, in presenting the class, said he thought that the presence of so many people on this occasion was an indication of a great interest in the work of the High School. He said the class was one with which he had been most pleasantly connected. The moral tone of its members was of a high standard. The most abundant success was wished for them.

President Pepper, of the Board of Education, in presenting the diplomas, remarked that the pearly and difficult one, but the present event was one long to be remembered. He procee way behind the scenes and offered congratulations.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

A Saloon License for West Pirst Street The Police Commission met yester-lay morning with all the members pres-

A short executive session was held, at which a protest was presented against the opening of a saloon at No. 227 West First street, as authorized by the board in its action of last Tuesday place.

The protests against the establishment of the saloon, as mentioned above, were as follows: Carrie Schumacher and P. F. Schumacher (for two-thirds of Schumacher, estate.) 125 feet. Hulof Schumacher estate,) 135 feet; University Bank, 17 feet; J. H. Jones, 41.5

versity Bank, 17 feet; J. H. Jones, 41.5 feet; Flora G. Howes (by F. C Howes, her attorney-in-fact,) 40 feet; Times-Mirror Company, 30.75 feet; Jasper Harrel, per H. W. Chase (Nadeau Hotel.) 185.8 feet; total frontage represented by protest, 208.55 feet.

The total frontage in the block is 663.19 feet. The two-thirds consent of the total frontage as required would therefore be 442.12 feet. The total frontage less that on the protest would be 354.64 feet, which amount is 87.48 feet less than the frontage the consent of which is required.

After duly considering the above the permit, as issued by the board, was revoked. The vote on such revocation was unanimous.

About a fortnight ago, M. German, the well-known jeweler, advertised the fact that he was in a position to do the finest and best style of watch work. Since then he has been so flooded with work of this sort that he has been compelled to engage two more watchmakers, thus giving him a force of six men now at work on this branch of his business. The newcomers are on a par with his old men—that is to say, they are at the top of their profession. With their help, Mr. German is consident of being able to keep his present position at the head Jr., at-ed and the second of the watch-fepalerers of Los Angeles.

In all other branches of the jewelry business Mr. German is also fast taking the lead. His store, at No. 320 South Spring street, is filled with a stock which cannot be excelled anywhere this side of Chicago. In the manufacturing department he is now employing twenty men, and is able to fill any order, no matter how complicated. His staff of mechanics comprises every line of jewy manufacturing, and every man is an artist in his respective specialty.

CHANGED HIS MIND

Bradish's Afterthought Came Too Late.

He Cannot Be the Executor of the Sherman Estate.

me Court Opinions Received by the Deputy Clerk.

ew Grand Jury Drawn in Department One—John Smith Released on a Writ of Habeas Corpus— Court Notes.

In the matter of the Sherman estate,

In the matter of the Sherman estate, a contest having arisen in a curious manner as to who should be granted letters as executor under the will made by the deceased, Judge Clark yesterday rendered his decision in favor of W. F. Bosbyshell as adverse to the petition of A. J. Bradish.

The grounds of contest in the case are best expressed in the opinion filed in the court, which is as follows:

"This is a contest for letters testamentary submitted upon an agreed statement of facts. The will reads: I nominate and appoint as the executor of this will the said A. J. Bradish, and in the event of the failure for any cause of the said A. J. Bradish to act as executor I nominate and appoint in his stead the said W. F. Bosbyshell. The decedent died November 5, 1893. Three days thereafter the will was opened and read in the presence of the said Bradish and Bosbyshell, and the former then said in substance that he had given the matter careful consideration, that his business required his attention so that it would be impossible for him to act as executor and for the reason that he could not give to it the proper time and attention he would not accept or act as such executor. The said Bosbyshell then said he would alke the matter under consideration and give notice whether or no he would to simply a compromise verdict.

New Suits.

New Suits period of thirty days to apply for letters, may be deemed to have renounced his right. But there is no provision of the code requiring an express remnication to be in writing, and in the case of the estate of Keene, supra, the refusal of the husband to apply for letters would seem to have been a verbal refusal. Doubtless a verbal renunciation, or a written renunciation, may be withdrawn at any time before action be taken thereon, but, when relying upon the refusal of the party first in right, the party second in right incurs the expense and trouble of applying for letters, the former should be estopped from retracting. And in the application of this rule I fall to see how it can make a difference whether the renunciation be writen or verbal. The petitioner Bradish having unequivocally stated that he could not, and would not accept the trust, and the will providing that in the event of his failure to act, them the petitioner Bosbyshell should be appointed, and the latter relying upon such refusal, having applied for letters and incurred the trouble and expense incident thereto, I think that letters should issue to him, and it is so ordered."

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS.

The order of the Superior Court in the case of the Northern Counties Invest-ment Trust vs. John Cadman et al., di-recting that the Sheriff proceed to pubrecting that the Sheriff proceed to publish notice of sale of certain real estate under execution, has been affirmed by the Supreme Court. In the opinion, received at the office of Deputy Clerk Seenon yesterday, it is stated that the record contained no part of the judgment roll, nor anything to show the nature of the action or the form or substance of the execution. The trust was the appellant in the case. The Orange county Sheriff ignored the instructions to insert notice of sale in a particular paper and commenced the publication in another sheet. The point made was that the Sheriff had no power to depart from his instructions, and that he should have followed out the instructions given.

Court Notes.

Antonio Favorine, an Italian laborer who has lately become demented, was brought into Department Five yesterday and examined by Dra. Stewart and Wernigk, Judge Shaw ordering that he be committed to the asylum at Highlands.

A verdict for the defendant was entered yesterday in Department Six in the case of R. H. Maclay vs. W. H. Cooper et al., and in the second cause, under the same title, findings were rendered for plaintiff.

Judge Smith yesterday affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the cases of People vs. John McClure and People vs. Douglas Crefthton. The defendants were convicted of practicing medicine without a license.

John Smith was yesterday released from the County Jail on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Smith. The charge of burgiary was entered against Smith subsequent to the dismissal of a charge of petty larceny and the writ was granted on the ground that the second accusation should not have been brought for the same crime inasmuch as a plea of not guilty was formerly entered.

The joint causes of McFarland vs. Weisendanger and Weisendanger vs. McFarland were yesterday ordered transferred from Department Four to Department Three, for trial.

Robert C. Gillis, a native of Nova Scotia, was admitted to citenship yesterday in Department Two by Judge Clark. Adolph L. Selig, a native of Germany, was also admitted to a like state in the same court.

A decree for defendant in the case of Robinson vs. California Loan Association, quieting title to certain premises, was yesterday entered by Judge York on motion of Max Lowenthal, Esq.

The case of Anna M. Spence, executrix, vs. J. P. Widney et al., came up yesterday in Judge McKinley's court for trial, the suit being to obtain judgment for $3384.48, alleged to be due as funds advanced towards the building of a telescope on Mt. Wilson.

At a late hour last night the jury in the case of Phillips vs. Kerckhoff, which has been on trial for the past ten days in Department Two, returned a verdict on

HOW A CHICAGO MAN LOST HIS MONEY

A Merchant Arrested on a Charge of Grand

A Merchant Arrested on a Charge of Grand Larceny.

Thomas Collinson, late of Chicago, atpeared before the police judge yesterday with an application for a warrant charging a merchant tailor of this city with grand larceny. Collinson chaims that he paid the tailor $45 for a suit of clay diagonal. On passing No. 116 North Spring street, where Gordan Bros. are now located, he saw the same goods in the window for E3.50. On asking the salesman what the goods were Collinson was informed that the clay diagonal marked in the window $25.50 is fimported direct from England by Gordan Bros., and not bought from the second or third hands, as other tailors on the Pacific Coast. He placed an order for a suit, which was delivered to him at his hotel. On comparing with his $45 suit, he found that the suit made by Gordan Bros. was better lined and made. He at once called on the police judge and procured a warrant. Collinson was seen by a Times reporter. He said the $3.50 suit made by Gordan Bros. was far superior to the $45 suit he got from that tailor. He will axhibit the suit in court, and let a jury decide which is the best value for the money.

THE IMPENDING CONFLICT.

The Evil of Hiteracy.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 29, 1894.—
(To the Editor of The Times.) The Rev. Hickey, in his Sunday evening talk was altogether too wild in his statements. He should have stood in with his "spiritual head," the Pope, and had the press dispatches given in The Times this (Monday) morning, "suppressed" until after he made his little speech, in which he claimed the Pope was the "spiritual head" only of "suppressed" until after he made his little speech, in which he claimed the Pope was the "spiritual head" only of the church, while in the same paper the Pope is wailing because the temporal power is wrested from him. Mr. Hickey's statements that the Romish church always favored liberty, free schools, education, etc., might have been sceepted in the dark ages as true. But it won't go down with the American people, who, thanks to free schools, happen to be a nation of readers. The fate of Savonarola is still fresh in the minds of America's freemen and Mr. Hickey, it will take more than your single statement to convince the A. P. A. that the desire on the part of your church to "burn people" who cry out against the iniquities of the Romish church is wholly dead yet. We propose, as A. P. A. adherents, to trust Americans only. We have to judge the present status of your church by its past history, over which we will draw the veil. The A. P. A. knows full well you hate secret societies (except when they are of Catholic origin.) The reason is obvious: Every good Catholic must confess to the priest at least once. How many Protestants as teachers have you in your schools? How many Protestants have you in your employ as a church in this city? Why do you instruct your adherents to employ catholics only, other things being equal? You favor education, eh? Call Italy as a witness. Home of the Pope and of the church you represent for the last thousand years. Now rote the conditions. Here is matter taken from the governmental reports:

"The following figures of the 'Ammurio Italiano' vearly uphilabed hy

tions. Here is matter taken from the governmental reports:

"The following figures of the 'Ammuario Italiano,' yearly published by the Bureau of Statistics of Rome under the direction of Prof. L. Bodio, to whom the cause of public instruction in Italy is greatly indebted, convey exact information concerning the standing of the Italians as regards illiteracy and is most interesting reading to Americans.

"Per cent of illiterates to 100 inhabitants:

The census of 1891 (estimated) gives the percentage of illiterates of all ages at between 55 and 60 per cent. and of persons between 12 and 20 years as 42 per cent.

"Thus it is shown that a generation ago 73 per cent. of the Italian population could neither read or write. It is remarkable that while at the time of the first Italian census (1861) Piedmont, the only province ruled by a national government, had only 15 per cent. of illiterates; the province of Calabria, until them oppressed by the Jesuitic rule of the Bourbons, gave the almost incredible figure of 93 per cent. The only spot in Italy where illiteracy appeared to be unknown in that same year was among the Waldenses north of Piedmont, the only Protestant population of Italy."

Now, Mr. Hickey, if it takes your church government 1200 years to educate 22 per cent of the population of Italy to read and write and it takes the government of Italy only thirty years to reduce illiteracy 30 per cent. (See above table) to an ordinary person it looks as if all the time this side of eternity would be too shorts for the Romish church to complete the job, while the government will practically do it in little over a century. You are "not opposed to public schools?" The actions of the Church of Rome belle your words. Why this outcry about the "Godless schools?" What about this "Cahensy" business and the "Fairbault" plan of running the public schools? And the Wisconsin business, the work of your church; the dividing of the school fund, which you accomplish in Illinois? No, sir; the public schools of America, backed by the loyal hearts of her millions of freemen, are freely able to protect themselves against all influences that would destroy, and the A. P. A., numbering more than two millions of voters is, and will be found ever on the side of public schools of America, backed by the loyal hearts of her millions of voters is, and will be found ever on the side of public schools of America that would destroy, and the A. P. A., numbering more than two millions of vote to our shores to compete with natives of the soil much to their detriment. No! The A. P. A. believes in giving Americans a chance; and one of the pleasing thoughts in connection with your fair city, Mr. Editor, is that you have a strong branch of the A. P. A. in your midst, composed, as I find, of representative men, and as the principles of the order are understood I look for better government in your city in the near future.

The Church Militant Still on the Aggressive The Church Militant Still on the Aggressive. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31, 1894.—(To the Editor of The Times.) There is evidently nothing small about W. Huss, except perhaps the one item of common honesty. In your yesterday's issue, he hurled no less than twenty-one charges against Roman Catholics, gotten up to order, in every instance garbled and distorted, in almost every case absolutely false, and expressed off-hand, as it were, in a way eminently free and easy, without detailed references, and apparently resting on no higher authority than that of W. Huss himself.

ences, and apparently resting on no higher authority than that of W. Huss himself.

To begin with, the first quotation. "There is no other remedy for the evil but to put heretics to death"—alleged authority, Cardinal Bellarmine. Let us confine our attention to this point, my dear Mr. Huss. Where did you find in Cardinal Bellarmine's works the sentiments you ascribe to him? Please do not beat around the bush. Give us chapter, page, book, verse and edition; and also the original Latin. This will probably exercise your gigantic intellect to the exclusion of any other question for some time to come. It will be time enough to review your other equally reliable statements when we get through with the first.

Only one more remark for the present, Mr. Huss, with reference to your last charge, excerpt, as you state, from the oath taken by all priests. No Catholic priest, Mr. Huss, takes any such oath. A Catholic priest takes no oath at all to the Pope or even to the bishop. He simply promises obedience to his bishop in matters spiritual, but not in matters of a political nature, and most certainly not, and under no circumstances, where there should seem to be the slightest interference with the ten commandments of God or any other point of the moral code. The oath you allege as taken by all priests is simply a clumsy forgery. From beginning to end it is absolutely a lie. Were the old Latin adage, "Ex uno disce omnes." to be applied to the balance of your statements, the verdict would certainly not be altogether complimentary. J. W. HICKEY, C. M.

EDWARD S. ALLEN.

Core to Satelli.

Bishop Spalding's discussion of the mission of Satolli to this country, which he evidently regards as not less a failure than an unwarranted interference, has revived interest in the doings of that Italian prelate, of whom comparatively little has been heard since he ensconced himself in his palatial headquarters at Washington. This interest has largely been fostered by a series of open letters addressed to him by Bishop A. Cleveland Coxe of the Episcopal church, which are aptly characterized as follows in Harper's Weekly:

"The bishop has so far addressed four letters to Satolli, each of which is a masterpiece of straightforward and intense writing. His method is that of the trained master in good-natured polemics. His argument is cumulative. He begins by informing Satolli that the datter's coming here is offensive to a Protestant country, and to many honest citizens of his own faith, and that the ablegate is an allen, an emissary of a foreign court, and as ignorant of our institutions as he is of our language. The trend of the main argument is that Satolli represents all that is offensive in Jesuitism and that the Jesuits are a band of secret conspirators against all law and society whom it is our duty to limit and control, if mot banish; that Romanism has never once given proof of being able to build up wise and intelligent and progressive States, as the poor, sickly, superstitious and ignorant Scuth American countries testify; that France has long put up bars and bolts to keep out just such uninvited guests as Satolli; that we need no advice from him or his aged patron in Rome as to our common schools or any other American institutions; that Satolli is a general meddler at Washington and elsewhere in our matters, and so far has made nour recess: that the said will-the in the progressive in the progressiv institutions; that Satolil is a general meddler at Washington and elsewhere in our matters, and so far has made poor success; that the said inlividual had better go into countries where there is less intelligence than in this, and give information in that kind of primary instruction to be organized and where the moral standards are in need of revision far more than ours."

WONDERFUL CURES!

To the Sick and Suffering: Four months ago I was taken down with the "grippe, and not receiving any benefit from a score et doctors, came to Dr. Hong Sol. His treatment was a surprise to me, as from the very first dose of herb medicines he gave me I began to improve, and am now, after two week's treatment, as well as I ever was in my life. I had a painful and very racking cough, also severe pains in the head and eyes; stomack, iver and kidneys in very bad condition, and blood very thin. I now feel thoroughly healthy and well, and freely recommend Dr. Hong Sol to the sick and suffering. Thave been sick for nearly two years, suffering great pain in stomach and back, and never received any relief from the many physicians whom I consulted until I visited by Hong Sol, who told me that I was suffering from kidney and lung trouble. I took his medicine and in three weeks was entirely cured.

Another Warnon Healing Exhibition.

The Faith Curist Puts on Some Church Polish.

oes Not Forget the Central Figure Warnon, However.

st Night's Meeting at the First Baptis Church-What the Ministers of the City Think of Him-Plain Expressions of Opinion.

Another demonstration of the alleged Another demonstration of the alleged gift of healing was made by the faith-cure evangelist, Rev. F. Warnon, last night, the place chosen being the Central Baptist Church, corner of South Broadway and Sixth streets. Perhaps it should be explained, in justice to Mr. Warnon, that he is very particular to assert that God does the healing and not himself, as at the commencement of the Christian era miracles were performed, and it may be that the ardent ed, and it may be that the arden upport he receives from Pastor Will-am Stevens, of the Gospel Tabernacle thurch, is thus accounted for; also, the warm enthusiasm of Pastor Daniel Read of the First Baptist Church.

"We have been praying that God would make this an occasion for the salvation of souls as well as the heal-ing of bodies," said Pastor Read last salvation of souls as well as the healing of bodies," said Pastor Read last night, just before Mr. Warnon began his part of the proceedings, and he recalled an expression made by Mr. Warnon, some time ago, at the Temperane Temple, to the effect that the chief desire of the faith-cure exponent was to save souls—the healing of the bodies being only secondary thereto. It is patent, however, to a casual observer that the attention of Mr. Warnon is mainly devoted to physical things. The atmosphere of the church did not so well agree with the faith curist as did that of the Music Hall last Sunday, and when, with much of sanctimonious presentation, the faith-curist indulged in a grandiloquent expatiation upon the benefit of Christian rest, he found that while the audience was all attention, it was slightly more critical than were his hearers three days previous.

The intensely spiritual nature of the pastor, Mr. Reed, and the accustomed sacred nature of the place, did not seem to permit the same freedom of manner on the part of the speaker, and he was more reserved, even rather recoloretic and remonstrative. He sacred nature of the place, did not manner on the part of the speaker, and he was more reserved, even rather apologetic and remonstrative. He seemed to have an eye to the main thing, however, of having himself appear to the best advantage, and much of his fluent garrulousness seemed to have a desire underlying it all to present acvery fine appearance for Warnon. Occasionally he yielded to the frequent temptation to use vulgarisms of speech, as when, exhorting his listeners to renounce the evil things of a sinful life, he advised them, in the language of the ring, to "throw up the sponge." But, everything considered, he was better behaved, though with the same total lack of dignity, and his exhortation seemed to be just as hollow as ever—as hollow as the tone of his voice and the manner of his delivery. At times he attempted to be dramatic. The meeting was opened by Pastor Read with a reading from one of the gospels recording the calling of Peter and Andrew and James and John from their fighing-nets to follow Jesus, and containing an account of the miraculous works of Christ in casting out the muchean spirits and healing the sick "The wise men of the world," remarked the minister, "hever would have called such men as those fishermen, but they would have insisted upon having immential—men!" This was evidently a hint to the audience to accept Mr. Warnon's credentials as satisfactory.

When Mr. Read was through with reading the scripture, Mr. Warnon and his loyal champion, Rev. Stevens, came forward and took seats in the publit Rev. Victor Henry of the Ventura Brptist Church led in prayer, and after some hymns, Rev. Stevens also prayed, asking for "a special unction of the spirit," to which several devout "amens" were responded.

Pastor Read deemed it opportune their osay a word in behalf of Mr. Warnon, were responded.

Pastor Read deemed it opportune then to say a word in behalf of Mr. Warnon, and predicted that at the second coming of Christ, all the sick would be healed—

Warnon began with effusive to Dr. Read, and then asked for *hanks to Dr. Read, and then asked for a text from the audience, "according to our custom—a text from such as are moved by the Holy Ghost." Plenty of them were quoted. He chose Christ's words: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest," etc., and immediately haunched forth upon a pretentious display of religious elaboration and erudition, emphasized now and then by hysterical outbursts, apparently supposing tion, emphasized now and then by hysterical outbursts, apparently supposing it all to be a fervent appeal to those present to come to salvation. The great trouble with all his harrangue seemed to be a total lack of sincerity. A great deal of time was thus taken up without any apparent effect upon the audience, at least, nobody manifested any disposition to "come." He followed his flow of talk with the briefest kind of a prayer, and made the stereotyped request: "Let all of God's people say amen." Some said "amen."

All his oratorical exhibition amounted to was to reason that because rest was amen." Some said "amen."

All his oratorical exhibition amounted to was to reason that because rest was a good thing for a weary man, salvation was most desirable for a sinful soul. A sophomore intending to make a spread-eagle oration might have profited by listening to Mr. Warnon. There was the usual collection, of course. Pastor Read inflicted that penalty upon the audience, remarking that Mr. Warnon did not have the slightest anticipation of it, and the fatter ventured a mild protest, but did not press it far enough to prevent the collection. Then Mr. Warnon appeared to consider it incumbent upon him to explain that the services would be a reproductions of those which had been held at the Temperance Temple. Many had been prayed for and there had been much "imposition" of hands. He repeated the word "imposition" twice, which was perhaps significant. Then he boasted that in thirty-one days hadds had been thus "imposed" upon 10,000 separate occasions. Marvelous cures resulted, "not by the will of the flesh," but by the power of God and "at all times the meetings had been of a solemn character." The curing of bodies was but "a stepping-stone to lift souls to Christ."

the many cures of a most extraordinary nature which had occurred, but it was God who did it all—Warnon was only a cipher.

There were the old stand-by tumors, and the details he went into must have been delectable to his own ears. To other ears—to refined ears—he was offensively plain, if there be such things as modesty and a sense of propriety. There were ladies, though, in the audience who willingly corroborated his statements. Perhaps, after all, it is necessary to be plain when dealing with tumors.

Seeing a Times reporter present he could not refrain from a personal allusion, and hoped the "brother" would "write down" what he said as to his own position in the work, to wit, substantially: First, he did not heal or profess to do the healing himself; second, he did not guarantee a cure; third, both human faith and the divine will were necessary; fourth, he was only an agent in the hands of God. Sometimes people did not get benefited the first time; then they should come again. Secret sins or other reasons frequently stood in the way of otherwise possible cures—this as a sort of saving clause for his doctrine in case of failure—and very few persons were perfectly cured instanter.

From the audience came quite a number of testimonies principally from women, who to all appearances had been benefited in various ways, and were filled with gratitude, and one-poor, strimmering man, impressed with the volume and nature of the attestants, begged for relief then and there.

"My dear brother," responded the miracle-worker, "we have the utmost sympathy for you, but you are out of order. God can cure everything." So the poor fellow had to wait.

The testimonies had just begun when Mr. Warnon broke out, with much promposity, with: "Out of the mouths of two or three witnesses shall everything be established, why (raising his voice to a high pitch) we could get 3000 of them."

It was a glorious opportunity to acquaint the audience with his scheme of advertising, so he read from some manuscript which he propose to have printed in pamphlet form, how "after a momentary prayer by F. W.," a deaf mute could hear a whisper. It was inde to venture an expression of Whether the supposed cures will permanent time will doubtless prove permanent time will doubtless tell.

"Is that magnetism" Mr. Warnon would ask exultantly, and then he would comment: "If it is let us take it up and out of the mud of the world wash it in the blood of Jesus Christ and consecrate it upon the altar of the Lord."

"These devout Catholics have lots of faith," he remarked as he dealt with a member of that denomination, and then: "I thank God I'm no bigot, and when I get.to heaven I'll meet lots of my sister and brother Catholics there."

So it went on until a late hour—a supposed cure (possibly a genuine one, for reasons which can easily enough be explained) and then a little boast over it, coupled with an effusive "Give God the glory, brother," and an occasional authoritative "Let God's people say amen."—He was all ostentation and domination, but, taken altogether, he behaved himself much better than he had been known to before in this city.

OPINIONS OF MINISTERS.

What is Thought of Rev. Mr. Warnon'

The local religious world is a little slow to pass judgment upon the faith-curist, but it is the current opinion among the clergy that all is not right with Mr. Warnon. The most general belief seems to be that he is a misguided fanatic. There is, however, an undercurrent of sentiment which suspiciously regards him as a vulgar preparation.

Dr. Campbell described his treatment of a lady on Main street, in which he seemed to deliberately practice magnetism. Dr. Campbell was accompanied on that occasion by a man who had formerly been a hypnotist, and Mr. Warnon's work, they thought, was very apparent.

On one occasion Warnon informed a lady that it would be necessary for her to produce $5$ before being relieved of a tumor, says Dr. Campbell, and the boy whose broken arm was said to have been healed at the Temple was astained to be not healed when a member of the Trinity M. E. Church proceeded to investigate.

Rev. John Gray, rector of St. Paul's Church is inclined to the belief that Warnon is a deluded fanatic, more than anything else, and he thinks that it will be necessary yet for exangelists to form an order of their own for self-protection. Rector Gray does hot believe that God distributes the miraculous gifts promiscuously.

PAPER CARNIVAL

nt Part Taken in the Entertain by the French and Spanish Booths - Tonight's Programme.

Another large audience witnessed the Paper Carnival last evening. Every-thing was given with the customary smoothness. The French and Spanish booths formed a prominent part of the programme. The tableau, a garden scene, introducing the court of Louis programme. The tableau, a garden scene, introducing the court of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, after which the Minuet de la Cour was danced by the beauties of the court and chevallers, was one of the features. The young ladies in this booth are extremely pretty, the white wigs and black patches being very becoming. The latter applies especially to the gentlemen, who looked better than ever before in their lives. While not implying that any of them are not naturaly handsome, still even the plainest would have shone in these brilliant costumes of the last century. It taxed one's imagination to conceive that these gallants with their rouge and powder, their lace mouchoirs and ruffles, were ever troubled with other than the cares of a court existence, and had in reality to get out and rustle for the "needful." Miss Roberts as Marie Antoinette wore a gorgeous costume with a train several yards in length of light blue, bordered with silver and borne by four small pages. Capt. Bolton as Louis XVI was most imposing; his costume was elaborate and in excellent taste. The crown, which was secured from San Francisco, was greatly admired, and caused much envy among the other monarchs.

There was also in the party a dusky serving man in charge of a large hamper and a small case full of stuff that gurgled and sloshed as the cars jogged along up the road, and a little later on he added a large wad of celat to the layout. Loafing about the dingy waiting-room at Sangus waiting for a down train from 9:15 to noon is not a thrill-ing occupation, and the best thing about it is the fact that the tension doesn't last a week—if it did paresis and brain fag would be the dead sure result.

Bates, Cleveland Piain Dealer; Clarence Hatzfeld, Chicago Staats-Zeltung, and Mr. Archibald of the Chronicle, already mentioned. They are all young, wide-awake, clear-eyed fellows, with ready pens, and each of them has won this trip to California by having performed some special service for his paper which warrants the reward. They brought their appetites along and the contents of small, cold bottles and the cold birds, lobster salad and such were hidden beneath waistcoats with a vim and relish that was refreshing.

they want to get right out and camp for good.

They report having had a jolly trip down, and although the weather clerk saw fit to make a "holy show of himself" by lugging onto the scene some Chicago weather, there was no back talk about it, for, as the boys say it: "What do we care for a little rain, aren't we from Chicago or there-abouts?"

And when anybody speaks of weather in connection with Chicago that seems to settle it.

That does settle it.

SHOWN THE CITY.

SHOWN THE CITY.

At the Southern Pacific depot Harry Brook, president of the Los Angeles Press Club, and J. B. Lankershim, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, were in waiting, with two four-horse coaches, in which the newspaper men were driven to the Hollenbeck Hotel, where they had a brief rest, and then started on a drive, around the city. Unfortunately the weather was showery and unpleasant to Californians, but the visitors seemed to think it was all right. During the trip a brief, call was made at the residence of F. A. Eastman, formerly of Chicago, on Washington street, and of Hon. Joseph Medill, of the Chicago Tribune, on Figueroa street. The latter was not at home, but cards were left.

With a few exceptions, this was the first visit of these journalists to Los Angeles, and they appeared to be charmed with the impressions which they received.

THE RECEPTION.

THE RECEPTION.

The rooms of the Press Club, in Music Hall building, where the informal reception was held in the evening, had been transformed into a bower of semi-tropical foliage through the interest manifested by Secretary Howard and others of the Park Commission, and particularly of Superintendent Le Grand, to whose artistic taste was due the credit of the pleasing effect.

At 8:30 o'clock the little procession of visitors, in charge of the reception committee, left the Hollenbeck Hotel and made their way down to the rooms.

direction, into the lunch rooms, where refreshments in the way of sandwiches and liquids, with a bountiful stipply of cigars and tobacco to properly top off the lunch in true bohemian style, were furnished. By this time many well-known citizens and other invited guests put in appearance, filling the rooms to the proper degree of comfort, and all settled down to have a good time.

After the evening had well advanced, remarks were called for Mayor Rowan, Col. J. J. Ayers, K. H. Wade, J. W. Mitchell, H. Z. Osborne and Col. H. G. Otis responded briefly. Nearly all of the members of the visiting party favored the gathering with a few words, timed to suit the occasion most happily. Artist John McCutcheon executed a clever caricature of E. E. Bates on a large sheet of paper, which was hung up on the wall, while Mr. Archibald referred in a few pointed remarks to the jovial Baites as the "barrel" of the crowd. The caricature will be framed and kept as a memento by the PressClub. A number of funny songs were sung before the gathering broke up for the night.

before the gathering broke up for the night.

It had been the intention of the party to return to San Frafcisco today, but Manager Wade of the Southern California Rallway pressed his invitation for them to take a trip around the Kiteshaped track, and the request to stay at least a day longer was so heartily seconded by the members of the local press and citizens, that it was finally agreed that the visitors should not leave for home until Friday afternoon. This morning at 8:30 carriages will meet them at the hotel and take them on a trip to the foot of the mountain railway and around through the San Gabriel Valley, returning by way of the Baldwin ranch and Alhambra. On Friday the excursion around the Kiteshaped track will be made.

The affair last evening went off most pleasantly, and the Press Club owee its thank to thoe who contributed so much foward making it a success.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Engineer William Stoermer Before the Board.

nvestigation of the Charges Preferred by Assistant Chief McMahon - The Case Taken Under, Advisement.

The Fire Commission met yesterday morning, the full board being in at-The requisitions and demands were Approved as presented.

Applications of J. T. Ross, J. A.

Castillo and C. H. Johnson for appointments as callmen were placed on

A communication from Leonard Grover, asking that he receive the support of the board in a festival for the benefit of the fireman's relief fund was placed on file.

The Chief was instructed to send to tions of the engines and other apparatus at that time.

Engineer Stoermer, against whom Assistant Chief McMahon had made the charge, was next called in. He stated that at the time of the trouble he was standing on the rear of the engine, which had been driven up near to the place. When near the plug the driver set the brake. He did not hear any order from the assistant chief, as was claimed. In fact, he was on the other side of the engine, so that he could not have heard him. McMahon came up and asked why it was he did not stop. He replied that he did not hear any such order. McMahon became angry, and called him a liar. Witness said: "I don't want any argument with you," and told Casey, the driver, to drive back to the engine-house. Witness had no disposition to disobey orders, and had he heard the order would said: "I don't want any argument with you," and told Casey, the driver, to drive back to the engine-house. Witness had no disposition to disobey orders, and had he heard the order would certainly have obeyed it. In regard to not having his engine fired, witness said there was a heater at the engine-house, so that there was a steam pressure of five or ten pounds in the boiler. He had been told to use judgment in firing the engine, and if it had been necessary he could have had enough steam up to run it as quickly as the plug could have been connected with the engine. The steamer was different from those in the outer districts of the city, which required four or five minutes in which to generate sufficient steam to run. With the boiler already heated he could set plenty of steam in thirty seconds. Had he seen that there was a big fire he would have had steam up before reaching it.

Witness admitted that he was not on friendly terms with the assistant chief, but insisted that he never had any intention of disobeying orders.

Messrs, Garvey, Casey and Price made statements which in part corroborated what Stoermer had said.

Mayor Rowan told Stoermer he need what Stoermer had said.

Mayor Rowan told Stoermer he need cell no more witnesses and the commissioners adjourned to the Mayors private office in company with Councilman Munson, who had been present during the heariry. They came out in a few minutes and announced that the matter-had been taken under advisement.

PETTY OFFENDERS.

Business Transacted by the Police Justices Vesterday.

In the Police Court yesterday Justice Austin disposed of the following cases:

C. M. Shade, who was tried by a jury of nine on Tuesday last for obtaining $2 by means of false pretenses from Tony Zorb the saloon keeper, but was required to reappear, as the jurors stood 7 to 2 in favor of acquittal and could not agree, entered his plea of guility to the charge and was fined $10.

Myron Russell, a healthy vagrant, was sentenced to work in the chain gang for thirty-five days, and M. J. Corrigan another vagrant was given a forty days "floater."

The boy burgiar Dennis Brady, who broke a window sin H. J. Hiller's store on Saturday night last and stole a big Colt's pistol therefrom, entered his plea of guility to the charge of petty larceny and was remanded for sentence until noon today.

George Baker was arraigned upon the charge of violating the hack ordinance, and Agripina Alvarez upon that of disturbing the peace, and each entered a plea of not guilty and was released upon his own recognizance to appear for trial tomorrow.

Frank Pierce, charged with cruelty to children, was arraigned, entered his plea of not guilty and was released upon $20. bail to appear for trial om Monday next.

Dr. Wong was arraigned upon the charge of practicing medicine without a State license, and his counsel having filed a demurrer to the complaint against him, the matter was continued for hearing until Wednesday next.

Upon filotion of the District Attorney Justice Seamans yesterday dismissed the case against Joe Moreno, charged with battery, the evidence against him being insufficient.

Peter Garcia, who was recently convicted of petty larceny, was fined $30.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Builetin for the Southern California Weather Burcau.

Following is the weather and crop bulletin of the Southern California Weather Service for the week ending January 29:

The weather during the past week was considerably warmer than has prevalled for some time past, but was not as warm as desired for rapid ripening of citrus fruits. Generally clear weather prevalled with an occasional night fog in the coast districts. No rain fell, and the deficiency in miosture is becoming quite marked, as shown by the slow growth of grain and grasses. Plowing and seeding continues notwithstanding the lack of moisture in the soil. Deciduous tree planting has begun, with anticipation of a large acreage being set out. Detailed reports follow:

San Luis Obispo—The weather has been cool and clear but no frost. Seeding is mostly done except for hay. Pasture is getting fine and stock is improving. Plowing for summer crops will soon be in order.

Ventura county — Bardsdale: The nights have been cool and dry; pasture has not started because of the cool weather. Sown grain will not do well without rain. Many acres of trees will be planted, chiefly to lemon and apricot.

Employees' Entertainment Hotel Green a Success.

Meeting of the Fortnightly Club-Visiting Railroaders-Salvation Army Anni-versary Meeting-Personal Items and Brevitles.

A social and histrionic success was zecored at the entertainment given Tuesday evening by the Hotel Green employees on the ballroom stage. Several hundred people, including many prominent in social circles, attended in response to invitations, that had been issued through the courtesy of Manager J. H. Holmes, and judging by the liberal applause throughout the performance, everybody was well entertained.

The programme opened with the farce "One Square Meal." Miss May Mahoney impersonated Bridget Mulcahy, an Irish cook, in vigorous fashion, while the part of Anna Belle, a colored waitress, of the Topsy type was well taken by Miss Kittle Barron, who showed herself to be the possessor of a very sweet voice. Roy Covert took the part of Oleeon, a restaurant proprietor, and A. J. Craven appeared in the character of a tramp, whose make-up was one of the features of the show. A quartette, composed of Charles J. Pearsons, first tenor; Harry Burke,

The programme concluded with the comedieths: "Wanted-1000 Milliners." The cast was as follows: Joe Baggs, A. J. Craven; Tom Tipton, John E. Maloney; Old Singleton, Ed Barett, while the young milliners were impersonated by Misses Margares were impersonated by Misses Margares Condon Libble McKenna, Lizzle Walsh, Mary Pertins, Celia Savage, Kittle Barron and Geal Donaldy, ere as in the preceding larce, Mr. Craven proved himself to be a concidian of the first order, and his efforts were ably supported by Mr. Maloney, The act, however, was rather too long drawn out, which is the worst that can be said of the performance. Everybody went away pleased, the participants, one and all, are to be congratulated over the success; of their initial performance. Worthy of special mention is the bass solo, "The Old Sexton," rendered by Mr. Craven.

EVERY TWO WEEKS.

The meeting of the Fortnightly Club, held Tuesday evening at the vestry of the Universalist Church, was fairly well attended, and the exercises were of the usually interesting and instructive character. A short business session resulted in the election of Dr. H. A. Reid as one of the vice-presidents, vice Prof. Geo. Conant, resigned on account of holding the secretaryship, and the reception of several new members. President Theodore Coleman stated that the attendance at future meetings, with an occasional exception, will be limited to members, and thus membership addresses, papers and discussions will hereafter be assigned. After a well-executed piano solo by Miss Keese, Judge A. M. Stephens of Los Angeles was introduced as the first speaker of the evening. His subject, "The Electoral Franchise," was fully covered in a manner that engaged the undivided attention of all present. The closing address was made by Edwin Meserye, Esq. of the control of the stephens of the old will be held February 13, on which occasion the programme will be rendered under the direction of the science section.

The Elks' Entertainments for the benseit of the poor netted over $1200 in cash besides $200 worth of provisions. No other charitable movement ever a acomplished a quarter as much in the same time. Several years ago there occurred a terrible tragedy near Escendido, known as the Moosa Canyon tragedy, several people being killed in an attempted arrest. The husband of one of the women killed subsequently brought suit for $32,000 against one of the assailants, and got judgment in the Superior Court in this county. The case was appealed by J. M. Stone, the defendant, and after it had been before the Supreme Court for over two years a decision was rendered, reversing the judgment, and ordering a new trial. A new trial will cost the county very heavily, and most likely result in nothing, as several of the interested parties have left the county and their whereabouts are unknown.

Final Decision in an Important

Today - Checker Club Startled-Notes and Personals of Local Interest.

Judge Towner's decision in the case entitled The Northern Counties Investment Trust, Limited, vs. John Cadman, et al., an action to foreclose a mortgage on certain property in Anaheim and vicinity, has been sustained by the Supreme Court of the State of California. It will be remembered that the attorneys for the plaintiff in this case, Messrs. V. Montgomery of this city and Smith & Winder of Los Angeles, brought suit against Sheriff Lacy some time ago to compel him to do the legal advertising in the case in a certain newspaper, the same compel him to do the legal advertising in the case in a certain newspaper, the same to be proposed by the attorneys. The Sheriff used his own discretion in the matter of placing the advertisement, and hence the suit. The Sheriff won the case in the Superior Court, and the recent decision of the Supreme Court sustains the lower court's verdict. From the above it will be seen that the attorneys in a case cannot compel the Sheriff to place its legal advertising in a newspaper not the Sheriff's choice.

NO MORE BLIZZARDS FOR HIM.
C. J. Conner of Sloux Falls, S. D., is through with the blizzards of far-off Dakota. He has only been in California about ten days, or two weeks, but that is long enough for him to make up his mind that he wants a home in this portion of Uncle Sam's footstool. Yesterday (Wednesday) he closed a deal for the Elmer ranch, near Orange, consisting of twenty-two and one-half acres, for which he pays the neat little sum of $12,-000. This would be a big price for the same number of acres in Dakota, or many of the other Eastern States, but in California, especially the Santa Ana Valley, the sale is a bargain for the purchaser. Mr. Conner was in Santa Ana twelve years ago, and when he returned last week and saw the Santa Ana of today and the great development throughout the county, he thought he had been given an object besson that he would not soon forget.

Mr. Conner is one of Sloux Falls's most prominent citizens. He has four friends and their families who are waiting to leave Sloux Falls for Orange county, as soon as he reports favorably to them. The favorable report has been made, so, the friends will soon be on their way westward. Mr. Conner, wife and son, left Santa Ana on the evening train Wednesday for Los Angeles, to remain for a few days with friends in that city.

A. D. Chappell, a prominent banker of Arrindad, Colo., is in Santa Ana for a few days enjoying the sights and scenes of the joker county of the State. Mr. Chappell's hair is silvered with the passing of three-score and nine years and yet, to use his own words, his steps are light and he experiences new life in this semi-tropical country. He will visit C. P. Riggs and family during his stay in this city.

Charles Twombly of Haverville, Mass., arrived in Santa Ana Wednesday and for the next few days will be the guest of Isaac Fields, who lives midway between this city and Tustin. Mr. Twombly expects to locate somewhere in the county and engage in the poultry business. He says the climate in Massachusetts is too cold to raise chickens. He expresses himself delighted with what he has already seen of Orange county. Henry W. Williams and wife charles Williams and wife and H. G. Wiley and wife of South Haven, Mich., arrived in Santa Ana Wednesday, and are the guests of E. D. Cooke, Esq., and family. The Messrs. Williams are owners of a steamboat line between South Haven and Chicago, and are in California no doubt with their weather eye open for business as well as for pleasure. The gentlemen all-express themselves as being delighted with California and pleased with Californians.

A number of Santa Ana lovers of good horses attended the sale of the Palo Alto stock in Lta Angeles Theeday. Among the theorem this city who purchased some of the thoroughbreds were: George W. Ford, G. M. Faul, J. Willits, H. Neill, J. T. Wilson, G. S. Willits, A. E. Trowbridge, G. A. Edgar, J. Irvine and E. L. Sherman. Verily, Orange county is becoming the home of the thoroughbred horse. The horses were driven through to this city Wednesday, arriving in good condition. They were admired by a large crowd as they were taken down Fourth street.

Robert Way of Pasadena was in Santa. Ana Wednesday on a short business and pleasure trip. While in this city he met several old-time Eastern friends whom he had not seen for a number of years. In conversation with a representative of the San Joaquin ranch a few days ago, the Times reporter was informed that the acreage of barley this year on the great ranch would be larger than ever before; that last year over 20,000 acres of this product was harvested. It was also incidentally remarked during the conversation that the farmers on the ranch were in need of a good rain just at this time.

Interesting Meeting of the Forfnightly Club.

Personals.

At the meeting of the Fortnightly Club on Tuesday night there was a good attendance of invited friends asked to go and see the character of the work and play the members are engaging in. The programme included reading the restrictions you all instrumental work and play the members are engaging in. The programme included readings, recitations, vocal and instrumental solos, etc. The exercises opened with a quartette, "Trust in the Lord," by members of the Daphne Ciub, and closed with a plano solo by Mrs. R. M., Lancaster, there being ten numbers upon the programme. Miss Marcia Crafts's vocal solo, "Thou Lovest Me Not," was loudly, applauded, and Miss McIntyre's violin solo, "First Movement of the Ninth Concerto" of Bocario, was not permitted to pass without an encore. The friends were not satisfied with a single song by John Gage, and he responded to an encore. Mrs. Lascaster first played Mendelssohn's "Caprico Brilliante," and was applauded to the echo. The hall at the Y.M.C.A. was filled, and the entertainment was greatly enjoyed.

THE NEW DISTRICTS.

The County Supervisors have redistricted the county, but made very few changes in the Supervisor districts, and these few are chiefly changes in the voting precincts. Thus, in the First (Desert) District, Oro Grande, Vanderbilt and Rose Mine districts have been formed, and Holcomb Valley united with and merged into Bear Valley. In the Secondw Supervisor District, a new precinct has been formed, to be known as North Ontario. In the Third, Agua Mansa and East Riverside have been united, to form Terrace precinct.

The balance of the programme consisted of selections from the most popular of their operas and all were exceedingly well rendered, the duet by Miss Graham and Foley Parker being particularly good. Mr. Parker is a singer of more than average histrionic talents which brought him much applause for his rendition of "Robin."

From San Jose Mercury, Jan. 19: "Recently a severe attack of la grippe confined me to my bed; it caused me great difficulty in breathing, and the pain in my back and limbs was almost unbearable. I could not turn myself without help: I thought it would require months for my restoration, but by the use of Jaffe's Electric Pain Expeller and Jaffe's Intrinsic "Tonic I was cured in one week.

I consider it not only a great pleasure to thus express my thanks to Dr. Jaffe, but my duty is to make the public acquainted with the merits of his wonderful preparations."

CRAZED BY GRIP.

Suicide of a Recent Arrival from Arkansas.

William Bogan, While in a Fit of Despon ency, Blows Out His Brains-Sickness Was the Cause of William Bogan, a young man about 30 years of age, from Hazel Valley, Washington county, Ark., committed suicide in his room at the Natick House yesterday afternoon, while temporarily deranged from the effects of the grip. Bogan and two younger men, George and Napoleon B. Arnett, arrived in this city from Fayetteville, Ark., Tuesday afternoon and accompanied by two chance acquaintances whom they met on the train, registered at the Natick House. The Arnett boys, who are cousins, and distantly related to Bo-gan, occupied a double bed in the same room with the deceased, who was suffering from an attack of the grip, and frequently complained both during their journey out here and after their arrival of pains in his head. When the trio retired on Tuesday night the younger Arnett removed a loaded pistol, a 38-calibre Harrington & Brown, five-chambered revolver, from his pocket and placed it in one of the drawers in the bureau.

Yesterday morning after breakfast
the Arnetts and their train acquaintances went for a stroll around town, but Bogan refurned to his room, stating that he felt too sick to accompany but Eogan returned to his room, stating that he felt too sick to accompany them. Upon their return, about 2 o'clock, the Arnetts found Bogan in bed, and after a short conversation with him, during which he told them that he did not know whether he should stay or not, but that if they wanted to go back home he would let them have the money to do so, as he had about $$9, they left him, promising to return in a little while. Their next visit to the room was at 6.30 o'clock, when to their surprise they found the door locked upon the inside. Receiving no response to their knocks they sought the assistance of one of the clerks, and finally the younger Arnett climbed over the transom and opened the door. The room being dark, one of the Arnetts stepped over to the side of the bed and putting out his hand to feel whether or not Bogan was on the bed was startled by touching the pistol. The gas being lit a ghastly picture was revealed, for on the bed lay Bogan, still breathing, with a bullet hole in the center of his forehead, from which brains and blood were oozing, while the pillow beneath his head was saturated with gore. The pistol, which had evidently dropped from Bogan's nerveless hand immediately after receiving his self-inflicted wound, lay upon the sheet by his side, in one of its

which had evidently dropped from Bogan's nerveless hand immediately after receiving his self-inflicted wound, lay upon the sheet by his side, in one of its chambers being an empty certridge.

The matter was at once reported to the police and Bogan was conveyed to the Receiving Hospital, but expired almost immediately after being removed from the patrol wagon. In his pockets were found $80 in curreacy, $4.30 in silver, a certificate of deposit for $480 from the Washington County Bank of Fayetteville, Ark, a gold watch, and two or three business letters addressed to himself. No note, or writing of any kind, assigning any reason for his self destruction or indicating that his last act was premediated was found either in the room or upon his person.

Immediately after Bogan's death the Coroner was notified by the police and the body removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held today.
